"It easily ranks among the most notable American publications."—Rt. Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone.

KILLIKELLY, SARAH H.—Continued.

"I am very much pleased with your work. It has an immense amount of useful knowledge packed into its pages. Your plan of separating the questions and answers is ingenious, for a glance at the question without the appended answer sets one on the search through his own brain for the facts called for. The evidence of personal ignorance makes one covet the information. With the coveting comes the excitement of curiosity, and when, after the process of awakening and stimulating the mind, comes the turning to the page where the answer is found, the student is more likely to read that answer with avidity, and retain it permanently."—Right Rev. John H. Vincent, D.D., Bishop of the M. E. Church, and Chancellor of Chautauqua University.

"It is indeed full of curious and interesting information, and merits the success I sincerely wish it."—Rev. Phillips Brooks, D.D., Boston.

"I have received and examined the 'Curious Questions,' and find it full of interesting and instructive matter. In its plan and contents I was reminded a little of D'Israeli's 'Curiosities of Literature,' and it may do much the same kind of work for certain people that that famous book has done for others. It affords an excellent model for 'Clubs' of young people who wish to improve themselves by reading and study during the winter at home, or during the summer at many of the quieter resorts where books may be had."—Rev. George Williamson Smith, D.D., President of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

"'Curious Questions' is an entertaining and instructive work. It is quite a treasure house of information, alike rare, interesting, and valuable. It finely blends qualities which are seldom combined; namely, erudition and diversion. I hope that 'Curious Questions' may find many ready purchasers."—Rev. George Dana Boardman, D.D., Philadelphia.

"I commenced examining the 'Curious Questions' without any idea that it would be of service to a man of my age, opportunities, and experience. I find, however, that some of the questions are such as I could not have answered or have known where to look for their answers. Nor are there any questions in the book which it is undesirable to have answered. Such a work will be of inestimable value to any intelligent person, old or young. The plan of the book is original, its purpose that of supplying an actual need, its execution indicative of broad and generous culture, pure taste, and delicate discernment."—Rev. Andrew Preston Peabody, D.D., LL.D., of Harvard University.

"The Robertsonian Method of learning the German, French, Spanish, Latin, and Italian languages, without the aid of a teacher, has for the last twenty years been successfully tested throughout the whole European continent; and is, without a single exception, used in teaching these languages in all the educational institutions of England, France, and Germany. In London, Mr. A. H. Monteith, the most celebrated teacher of languages in the world, has arranged and perfected this system; and his works on the Study of the French, German, Spanish, Latin, and Italian Languages Without a Master, immediately obtained a sudden and extraordinary popularity.

"Any person unacquainted with the above languages can, with the aid of the above books, be enabled to read, write, and speak the language of either, without the aid of a teacher, provided they pay strict attention to the instructions laid down in either of these works, and that nothing shall be passed over without a thorough investigation of the subject it involves; by doing which they will find themselves to be able to speak, read, or write either language at their will and pleasure. The above works will be found to be invaluable to any person wishing to learn either language, and are worth, to any one, one hundred times their cost. They run through several large editions in Europe every year, and all persons wishing to learn either language should get or send for a copy of the one they wish at once."

The English edition of Murray, based on the works of Preller, Welcker, and Petiscus, has been a most popular book. In this new edition (based on the latest revised edition of Petiscus) the old illustrations, many of which were imaginary, have been discarded, and fine copies from the latest discovered and best antique works of art have been added. The text has been thoroughly revised and illustrative passages from the poets inserted, making it the best manual for the use of schools, art students, and general readers.

NAPHEYS, GEORGE H., A.M., M.D. Physical Life of Woman. Advice to the Maiden, Wife, and Mother. A New Edition Revised to the Latest Date, with a Life of the Author.

This is the only work on the delicate topic of Woman recommended for popular reading by the most distinguished physicians, eminent divines, prominent educators, leading medical journals, and the press generally. Its extraordinary value and popularity is shown by the fact that of this work and its companion volume, "The Transmission of Life," 280,000 copies have been sold.

12mo, cloth, gilt back and side, ... $2 00

"Dr. Napheys we do not know personally. But this book is at once brave and pure. It is written in such a spirit that she who really desires to learn the truths of which she can not with justice to herself and others be ignorant, may do so without being shocked, while he who hopes to stimulate a vicious imagination by its perusal will turn away from its pages disappointed."—The Independent, New York.

"I have read with much interest and satisfaction 'The Physical Life of Woman.' I am glad that the subject has been taken up by one who shows himself so thoroughly qualified for the task, and I trust the instruction and advice contained in the volume will reach every woman in the land."—William A. Hammond, M.D., Professor in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, etc.

"This book is written in a style well calculated both to please and instruct. There is nothing of the sensational or imaginative character in it. On the contrary, its teachings are in strict accordance with scientific facts and good sense."—Chicago Medical Examiner.

"Your new work, on 'The Transmission of Life,' is one that every boy and every man, every bachelor, parent, or teacher, should have and read and be grateful for. I have given sufficient study to the ways and needs of boys and young men to appreciate, perhaps more fully than most, the importance of your theme. I have been much instructed by your writings, and I desire others to be benefited thereby."—Rev. H. Clay Trumbull, late Missionary-Secretary of the American Sunday-School Union, Editor of the "Sunday School Times," Philadelphia, etc.

"The topics, of greatest delicacy, are treated with all possible refinement, while the much-needed warnings concerning the offenses against nature, which are practiced in ignorance by many, and with shamelessness by others, are faithfully administered."—Prof. Noah Porter, D.D., President of Yale College.

There is not a word or an engraving in it at which the most sensitive can take offense, and it is composed in the highest tone of regular medical science."—Medical and Surgical Reporter (Philadelphia).

Crown octavo, cloth, gilt top, with full index, . 1 25

"Never did a title to a book express its contents with more fidelity than the above, for the book itself contains a little of everything that is odd, queer, quaint, and curious: As a work of reference or a volume to be picked up at leisure moments, nothing could be better. How and where the author ever found these items and short bits of information is a puzzle to the uninitiated. A good index facilitates the finding of what one wants to know."

"Such a book as Mr. Stauffer's will infallibly move its reader to take up some subject which had not previously attracted him for wider reading and closer study, as well as furnishing interesting and amusing reading for many a half hour. There is an available index and the publisher leaves ample scope and verge enough on the page for additions and annotations."—The American, Philadelphia.

"It contains a good deal of curious and out-of-the-way information regarding old and rare books, manuscripts, literary curiosities, comical blunders, queer laws and quaint characters, singular customs, rare relics, exploded notions, odd theories, strange prophecies, charms, amulets, superstitions, remarkable discoveries, interesting facts connected with inventions, together with a large collection of singular facts relating to animal and vegetable life. "Pinnock's Goldsmith's Rome holds the rank of a school classic, and should be found in almost every school in England and America in which history is studied."—North American, Philadelphia.

GOLDSMITH'S HISTORY OF GREECE. Pinnock's Revised Edition. Revised, Corrected, and Greatly Enlarged by the Addition of Several New Chapters, Numerous Useful Notes, and Questions for Examination at the End of each Section. By W. C. TAYLOR, LL.D. Illustrated with Numerous Engravings by Atherton and other equally distinguished Artists. One volume, 12mo, 365 pages, half roan, ... 1 00*

The alterations that have been made in this new edition of the Grecian history are so numerous and extensive as almost to make it a new work. The original history of Dr. Goldsmith contains many anecdotes of doubtful interest and authority, derived from Plutarch and Curtius; while such important matters as the Dorian migration and the sedition of Ceylon are wholly omitted.

"The style and elegance of the language, the arrangement of the chapters and the questions for examination render 'Pinnock's improved edition of Goldsmith's Rome,' in my estimation, a most valuable school-book."—J. F. Gould, Baltimore.

GOLDSMITH'S HISTORY OF ENGLAND. Pinnock's Improved Edition. From the Invasion of Julius Cæsar to the Present Time. With Questions for Examination, Tables of Contemporary Sovereigns and Eminent Persons, Copious Notes, Remarks on the Politics, Manners, and Literature of the Age, an Outline of the British Constitution, and Numerous Engravings. By W. C. TAYLOR, LL.D., of Trinity College, Dublin; Author of a "Manual of Ancient and Modern History," etc. A New, Revised, and Enlarged Edition.

In one volume, 12mo, 542 pages, half roan, ... $1 00*

THE HISTORY OF FRANCE AND NORMANDY. Pinnock's Revised Edition. From the Earliest Times to the Present Period. With Questions for Examination, and Numerous Engravings. By W. C. TAYLOR, LL.D. A New and Revised Edition.

In one volume, 12mo, 500 pages, half roan, ... 1 00*

Among the many Histories of England and of France that have been written, none have been so long and so deservedly popular as these two admirable books, combining, as they both do, to an attractive, vivid, and perfectly intelligible style, a simple and clear narrative of historical facts. Their established classical character was sufficient to justify the publishers in selecting the most improved editions of these works to be revised and adapted to the use of schools in the United States.

THE NEW-CHURCH REVIEW.

A Quarterly Journal of the Christian Thought and Life set forth from the Scriptures by Emanuel Swedenborg.

THE doctrines given to the world in the theological writings of EMANUEL SWEDENBORG are of the loftiest and broadest scope, dealing with the subjects of the Divine Being, His Incarnation in the person of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Glorification of His Human, His Second Coming by the opening of the internal sense of His Word, the spiritual nature of man and the order of his creation and regeneration, the spiritual world as man's eternal abode and as the world of causes from which all things in nature come forth as effects, the correspondence therefore of the two worlds with each other in general and in each particular, the universality of the Divine Providence and its relation to permitted evils, the heavenly nature of marriage, and the relation of gentile religions to Christianity.

Under the Divine Providence the world, as we believe, has thus been furnished with a revelation of truth drawn from the Divine Word, which, as it comes gradually to be received in heart and mind and life, will accomplish the fulfilment of prophecy and restore the Lord's kingdom upon the earth.

THE REVIEW seeks to give some expression to this truth and to bring its light to bear not only on events within the organization of the New Church, but on matters of general interest. It will stand ready to recognize whatever is hopeful and progressive in the religious world and in the fields of literature and science.

THE REVIEW is in the hands of a board of editors, consisting of the Rev. Theodore F. Wright, Ph.D., who has general charge, the Rev. James Reed, the Rev. Samuel M. Warren, and the Rev. Julian K. Smyth.

Each quarterly number contains one hundred and sixty pages, about one third of which is editorial. The yearly subscription is two dollars; single numbers, fifty cents.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ruskin's Works—The Authorized (Brantwood) Edition.*

In accordance with a contract with Mr. Ruskin's English publisher, we have the pleasure of announcing the publication of the Brantwood Edition of Ruskin's Works in 22 volumes. This is the only edition published in this country with Mr. Ruskin's consent, and from the sale of which he derives a profit. The illustrations have been prepared under the author's personal supervision, and the type, paper, and style of binding are in accordance with his suggestions. Each of the prose works contains a special introduction by Prof. Charles Eliot Norton, of Harvard College, explaining the purposes for, and the conditions under which, it was written. These introductions from the pen of Mr. Ruskin's most intimate friend and most acute and sympathetic critic, many of them containing extracts from personal letters written while the works were in preparation, give to this edition a rare and unique value. The two volumes of poetry, written between the ages of seven and twenty-six, with an appendix of later poems, now first collected from original manuscript and printed sources, are edited in chronological order, with notes biographical and critical by Mr. Ruskin's secretary, William G. Collingwood, M.A. The chronological arrangement of the poems—the author's age at the time of writing being printed at the top of each page—illustrates in a most interesting manner the development of his mind and style. The two volumes of poems have been copyrighted in this country under the new law, and the attention of the public is called to the fact that, by virtue of this copyright, we shall hereafter be the only publishers in this country able to supply Ruskin's works in a uniform style of binding. This edition is intended to include what Mr. Ruskin and his literary advisers regard as the essential and permanent part of his writings, and comprises the following:

The Army of the United States.

A Series of Historical Sketches of Staff and Line, edited for the Military Service Institution by General Theo. F. Rodenbough and Major William L. Haskin. Illustrated with autotype portraits of Generals-in-Chief, 1789-1895.

Complete in one Octavo Volume. 755 pages. Bound in cloth, gilt top $5 00

"It is with pleasure that I avail myself of an opportunity to commend this effort of the Military Service Institution to provide an authentic and condensed account of the services of the Army, from the creation of our military establishment to the present day. Each staff-corps and regiment of the line has here its chosen historian and its modest memoir replete with biographical as well as historical data. Its form gives it a unique character of special value as a work of reference. It represents the completion of a series of historical sketches which have appeared from time to time during the last few years in the Journal of the Military Service Institution of the United States, and comprises an amount of gratuitous labor by contributors and of public spirit on the part of the publishers that merits public acknowledgment. I have no hesitation in saying that it deserves a place in every public library, and is worthy of preservation by all collectors of military works."—Introduction by Major-General Nelson A. Miles.

The Political Cyclopædia.

Every one who wishes to think, speak, and act intelligently upon the great questions of the day needs this work, written by the most eminent specialists in this country and Europe; e.g., David A. Wells discusses the Tariff and Tariff Legislation from the standpoint of the free-trader, and D. H. Mason from the point of view of the protectionist. E. L. Godkin writes of Office-Holders, Prof. Alexander Johnston the articles on the Political History of the United States, Dorman B. Eaton of Civil-Service Reform, Pres. D. C. Gilman of Universities, Simon Sterne of Railroads, Pres. F. A. Walker of Public Revenue and Wages, Edward Atkinson of Banks, John J. Knox of the Currency, etc., Thomas M. Cooley, President Interstate Commerce Commission, of The Bar, Law of Corporations, etc., Horatio C. Burchard, ex-Director of the Mint, of Coinage, Gold, Silver, etc.

Of the multitude of cordial endorsements of the Cyclopædia received from prominent men in all parts of the country, the following are fairly representative:

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS writes: "A well-arranged and useful book of reference."

Prof. DAVID SWING says: "The three large volumes seem like foundation stones of our world. The most fundamental terms are defined and their import discussed. Events which acted as causes or come as results of society are to be found in this massive collection. These books, like a radius, sweep around the circle of political knowledge."

JAMES G. BLAINE writes: "I use it almost daily for reference, and regard it as a model."

THOMAS M. COOLEY writes: "An excellent work, convenient for any one to have, and invaluable to a student of the Political Sciences or of American History."

J. C. BANCROFT DAVIS writes: "The work will materially help to make better citizens and more intelligent voters of the young men into whose hands it will go and who are to control our destinies."

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION says: "It is doubtful indeed if a more important work of reference has ever been prepared."

THE NEW YORK NATION says: "A timely and valuable aid to political education. We cannot withhold our warm commendation of the industry and discrimination of the editor, and the enterprise of the publishers."

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE says: "The type, binding, and all the technical details of this really great work of reference are of the best kind, and we can heartily echo President White's commendation and say, 'The book ought to be in the library, not only of every man who takes an active part in politics, but of every one who wishes to give thought to the discharge of his ordinary political duties.'"

The publishers have just prepared a 16-page pamphlet descriptive of this great work, which they will send free to any one who wishes to know about it.

TALES OF A GARRISON TOWN. 12mo, 250 pages. Illustrated by CHARLES HOWARD JOHNSON. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.25.

"The stories are short, and in cases where the material of the plot is ordinary, are told with so much crisp literary style as to make amends. They all have the local Halifax flavor, and the most part are 'Garrison stories,' devoted rather to the social side of militarism and charmingly provincial in tone. They make a very readable and entertaining collection."—Independent, N.Y.

"It has not been our fortune in a long time to meet anything so admirable in their way as 'Tales of a Garrison Town.' "—Syracuse Standard.

Long, Lily A.

APPRENTICES TO DESTINY. By the author of "A Squire of Low Degree." 12mo, 348 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"Miss Long contends that the life of the cultivated folk of our trans-Mississippi cities is worthy of chronicle, and endeavors in this book to prove her thesis. A novel out of the West, it is a type of what Western literature should be—free, wholesome, and hearty, in which one can take honest satisfaction. Her heroine is influenced by a socialistic idealist and thinks she sees in his work for humanity the object which she requires to fill her own life. The story is well written, the narrative is lively, and the author shows that she is possessed of excellent literary ability."—Literary News.

"Mr. Pratt has worked out an idea so striking for its attractiveness and utility, that perceiving it, we at once go to work wondering that somebody else had not executed it before him. He has gone over the vast and superb areas of John Ruskin's writings, and cutting out one block here and another there, as it suited his purpose, has put all these parts together again into a literary mosaic, constituting a clear and harmonious system of art principles, wherein Ruskin all the while is the teacher. He has reduced Ruskin to a code. On the whole, we see not what this book lacks of being a complete text-book of the Gospel of Art according to St. John Ruskin."—Christian Union.

THE RAILWAY PROBLEM. Numerous illustrative diagrams, some in colors. 12mo, 250 pages, cloth, $2.00; half-leather, gilt top, $2.50.
Paper edition without diagrams, 50 cents.

"It is a painstaking effort to throw new light on a question where a great deal is needed, and to do justice to all parties, instead of writing from the standpoint of one only. It contains much interesting history, and not a few bright pieces of criticism." — Railroad Gazette (New York).

"An intelligent treatise on the railway problem, indispensable to all who are studying the question." — The Times, (Philadelphia).

"It is a vigorous arraignment of railway management." — Baltimore American.

"It goes over carefully, with illustrated diagrams, the whole era of railroad construction, management, competition, tariffs, passes, legal rates and discrimination, stock manipulation and watering, earnings, etc., with the consideration of all these and the kindred subject of railroad legislation in the light of the nation's ownership of the roads as highways, and the right to consider their tolls as taxes, and their operators as licensed servants of the government." — Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

"Mr. Stickney has for many years been directly connected with railroad construction, operation and financiering, and during that time has undoubtedly rendered to the public as well as to the railway world, a large amount of valuable service, but it is safe to say that in the writing of his book entitled 'The Railway Problem,' he has performed a service both to the public and the railroad world than which all else which he has done pales into insignificance." — The Railway Review (Chicago).

"It is written in compact, forcible, almost epigramatic style, and it would be difficult to condense its arguments and views. The author is certainly not biased by prejudice, either for or against the railroads." — Ohio State Journal.

Tourgee, Albion W.

OUT OF THE SUNSET SEA. Illustrated by AIMÉE TOURGÉE. Crown 8vo, 462 pages, cloth, extra, gilt top, $1.75.

"The tale is mainly concerned with the adventures of one Arthur Lake, who under the name of Tallerte de Lajes, sails with Columbus on his great voyage. This young man has dozens of adventures, death pursues him everywhere, but never quite overtakes him. He baffles even the schemes of the Inquisition, and passes unscathed through whole batteries of bright eyes. He is an admirably reckless youth; and we like him, as we like the story in which Judge Tourgée has put him." — Morning Journal.

ANNOUNCEMENT

INTELLIGENCE is a Magazine of Occult and Philosophical Literature, devoted to scientific examination of the laws of being, study of the operations of the human mind, and systematic inquiry into the faculties and nature of the spiritual man. Its principal aim is to aid in the development of a better understanding of the higher phases of activity in life. To the finer and really more important of man's faculties, powers and energies, and their natural action in every-day life we are pledged in the work herein undertaken. It is our intention to treat all such matters from their higher (or metaphysical) side, with the view to bring out more clearly their full ethical value for the permanent benefit of humanity.

Well-written articles are solicited from writers thoroughly conversant with subjects pertaining to the occult sciences and spiritual philosophy. While the views expressed in signed articles may not always be editorally indorsed, we are convinced that a correct understanding of the inner nature will result in a more perfect expression of the ideal which man is intended to manifest.

Because this is a comparatively new line of teaching there is all the more need and reason for every friend of advanced thought to lend what influence may be possible in a cause which can scarcely fail to prove beneficial. Thousands are waiting for such a periodical as this, and only need to have their attention called to the fact of its existence to lend a willing hand in promoting its circulation. Hundreds of letters are arriving from all parts of the world, representing the thought and feeling of the most trustworthy thinkers.

Subscriptions are payable in advance.

THE BROCADE SERIES.

Two seasons ago it seemed desirable to issue Walter Pater's early 'imaginary portrait,' THE CHILD IN THE HOUSE, in a shape and style that would be at once choice and moderate in price. The book lover, it is evident, appreciated the opportunity to procure a book printed on genuine Japan Vellum.

The result was that THE BROCADE SERIES came into existence, so named from the style of slide cases in which each volume is enclosed.

So far as known this was and is the first attempt to issue books printed on Japan Vellum at a price so moderate as to almost cause incredulity.

Three New Volumes ready October 1.

BESIDES the foregoing List of Books, Mr. Mosher can still supply several of his earlier issues, of which a few copies only remain. Booksellers should therefore send for his full descriptive list with rates of discount and terms to the trade. He is particularly desirous of placing his publications with those who make a specialty of choice but moderate priced editions; and who wish to sell books that will yield them a fair and uncut profit.

The New Prayer Book ordered by the Third Plenary Council.

MANUAL OF PRAYERS,

For the Use of the Catholic Laity.

722 pages. 16mo.

Size 4 × 5½ inches.

PREPARED AND ENJOINED BY ORDER OF THE THIRD PLENARY COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE.

The only Complete Compendium of the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Church ever compiled, having a replete explanation of each of the Sacraments, aiding Catholics and converts to fully understand the sacred offices of the Catholic Church.

338 THANKSGIVING AFTER COMMUNION.

Thine own the whole powers of my soul, my memory, my intellect, and all my will. All that I am, and all that I have, Thou hast bestowed upon me: therefore I give back all to Thee, and surrender it to be wholly governed by Thy sovereign will. Grant me but grace to love Thee alone, and I am rich enough and ask no more.

Here may be said the Tantum Ergo (p. 222), the Lauda Sion (p. 632), the Pange Lingua (p. 627), or any other Hymn in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

A PRAYER (i)

*To which Pope Pius VII. has annexed a Plenary Indulgence, which all the faithful may obtain who, after having confessed their sins with contrition, and received the Holy Communion, shall devoutly recite it before an image or representation of Christ crucified.

Behold, O kind and most sweet Jesus, I cast myself upon my knees in Thy sight, and with the most fervent desire of my soul I pray and beseech Thee that Thou wouldst impress upon my heart lively sentiments of Faith, Hope, and Charity, with true repentance for my sins, and a firm desire of amendment, whilst with deep affection and grief of soul I ponder within myself and mentally contemplate Thy five most precious Wounds; having before my eyes that which David spake in prophecy: They have pierced my hands and feet; they have numbered all my bones.

* Add five Our Fathers and five Hail Marys, for the intentions of the Holy Father. (S. Cong. Indulg., July 31, 1858.)

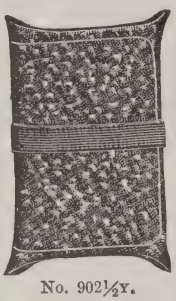
To correct errors found in many Catholic Prayer Books this Manual was prepared, by order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. It is endorsed by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons and by the Most Rev. Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, who had special supervision of the work. Each page in proof-sheets was submitted to all the Bishops of the country and by them approved. Being the only Prayer Book having this high endorsement, it will take the place, as the Council intended it should, of the various Prayer Books heretofore used.



It is universally conceded that the Fathers of the late Council have in this book given to their people the best expression of Catholic devotion to be found in the English language.

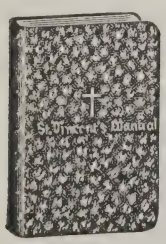
DEVOTIONS FOR MASS. 123

THE CREED.

Renew here your faith. All these things, which the Church proposes to your belief, are founded on God's own word, revealed in the Scriptures, announced by the prophets and the apostles, supported by miracles, confirmed by the martyrs, verified by the establishment of our faith, and obvious by the sanctity of our religion.

CREDO in unum Deum, Patrem omnipotentem, factorem cœli et terræ, visibilium omnium, et invisibilium. Et in

I BELIEVE in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. And in one



(Fac-simile of page.)

A standard Catholic prayer book recommended for general use by the most Rev. The Archbishops of Baltimore, and the Right Rev. Bishops of the U. S., who composed the Seventh Provincial Council, held in Baltimore, May, 1849, and the National Council in May, 1852, as being the most COMPLETE, COMPREHENSIVE, and ACCURATE CATHOLIC PRAYER BOOK published in the United States.

The universal popularity of this Manual among the Rev. Clergy and the people of the country—which has steadily increased from its first appearance,—renders it needless to enlarge upon its merits here. Originally prepared for use of the Sisters of Charity, it became not only their ordinary manual, but that of many thousands of pious Catholics throughout the land. Since its adoption for general use, upwards of two hundred thousand copies have been sold, which fact evidences its standing among the faithful.

The many high eulogiums passed upon the book by the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States and Canada have all been sustained and repeated by the authorities of the Church.

Many devotions, not usually found in prayer books, have been included in this edition: such as The Way of the Cross, the prayers of Bona Mors, Meditations for every day in the year, The Scapular, The Living Rosary, The Month of May, etc., etc., making it complete, accurate and convenient.

MORNING PRAYERS. 13

Morning Prayers.

Awakening in the morning, say:

O MY God, my only good, the author of my being, and my last end; I give thee my heart. Praise, honor, and glory be to thee forever and ever. Amen.

Rising, say:

IN the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son,

THE HOLY MASS.

The Priest at the foot of the Altar, says:

Epistles and Gospels separate.

No. 1309PL.

This cut shows about one-half the actual size of the book.

This well-known book in its present form (the Epistles and Gospels separate) has become, from a novelty a few years ago, one of the most popular of our series. The Prayers for church and home, written in the purest and most sympathetic style, appeal to the heart, making it a most valuable companion for the fervent. It is superbly printed on specially made paper and the greatest care has been taken in the selection of bindings, our aim being to please the cultured. For specimen of type, see page 18.

Vest-Pocket Prayer Book.

With Epistles and Gospels.

INDIA PAPER EDITION.

The only Vest-Pocket Prayer Book published in the World with the Epistles and Gospels—401 pages—yet measuring only 1/4 of an inch in thickness.

Size 4½ × 2¾ inches.

This cut shows one-half the actual size of the book.

This line shows exact size of page.

Ordinary of the Mass.

The Priest begins at the foot of the altar.

IN nomine Patris, ✠ et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti. Amen.

IN the name of the Father, ✠ and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Ant. Introibo ad altare Dei.

Ant. I will go unto the altar of God.

R. Ad Deum, qui lætificat juventutem meam.

R. To God, who giveth joy to my youth.

PSALM xlii.

P. JUDICA me, Deus, et discerne causam meam de gente non sancta: ab homine iniquo et doloso erue me.

P. JUDGE me, O God, and distinguish my cause from the nation that is not holy: deliver me from the unjust and deceitful man.

R. Quia tu es, Deus, fortitudo mea, quare me repulisti? Et quare tristis incedo, dum affligit me inimicus?

R. For thou, O God, art my strength: why hast thou cast me off? And why do I go sorrowful while the enemy afflicteth me?

P. Emitte lucem tuam, et veritatem tuam: ipsa me deduxerunt, et adduxerunt in montem

P. Send forth thy light and thy truth: they have conducted me and brought me to thy holy mount

The above fac-simile of page clearly demonstrates its purpose. It is a handy book, containing all the essential prayers for Church and home use, yet so compact that it can be carried without inconvenience in the upper vest-pocket. This new feature of adding the Epistles and Gospels, made possible through the courtesy of the Oxford Press (London) in selling us their world-renowned and incomparable India paper, famous for its thinness, color, and softness of touch, yet so opaque that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read, will be appreciated by Catholics as it meets a long felt demand. The book, although from its title was first intended for men, has become most popular owing to its size, among both sexes.

SECOND BOOK OF SAMUEL,

OTHERWISE CALLED THE SECOND BOOK OF KINGS.

This book relates the transactions from the death of Saul until the end of David's reign, being a history for the space of about forty-six years.

CHAP. I.

David mourneth for the death of Saul and Jonathan: he ordereth the man to be slain who pretended he had killed Saul.

NOW[x] it came to pass, after Saul was dead, that David returned from the slaughter of the Amalecites, and abode two days in Siceleg.

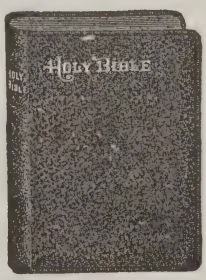
2 And on the third day, there appeared a man who came out of Saul's camp, with his garments rent, and dust strewed on his head: and when he came to David, he fell upon his face, and adored.

3 And David said to him: From whence comest thou? And he said to him: I am fled out of the camp of Israel.

4 And David said unto him: What is the matter that is come to pass? tell me. He said: The people are fled from the battle, and many of the people are fallen and dead: moreover Saul and Jonathan his son are slain.

5 And David said to the young man that told him: How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his son, are dead?

6 And the young man that told him, said: I came by chance upon mount Gelboe, and Saul leaned upon his spear: and the chariots and horsemen drew nigh unto him.



7 And looking behind him, and seeing me, he called me. And I answered, Here am I.

"Of the one hundred and fifty poems embraced in this volume, there are many worthy of being read by all men, and all of them possess true poetic merit." Episcopal Register, Baltimore.

"Father Faber, though a Roman Catholic, was one of the sweetest of our religious poets, and his verse must endear itself to all who love our Lord Jesus Christ." The Christian Union, New York.

We have been frequently urged by many admirers of these great writers to publish an edition of their works in fine bindings suitable for private libraries. We offer this issue as in every way worthy of these noted authors.

HOUGHTON'S
History of American Politics

(NON-PARTISAN.)

Embracing a History of the Federal Government, and of Political Parties in the Colonies and United States from 1607.

BY

Walter R. Houghton,

A. M.

ILLUSTRATED BY COLORED DIAGRAMS.

Price in Fine Sheep Binding $1.75

The object of this work is to present a complete History of American Politics; giving the subject ample consideration, yet avoiding those details that consume the time of the reader without adding materially to his historical information. It is designed to simplify the story of our political history, and make clear and intelligent what is otherwise a great mass of documents, too extensive for perusal. Each important epoch is treated in a separate chapter, and all are carefully and methodically arranged. The frequent colored charts through the book will be found of great interest. At the close of the volume is a diagram, showing at a glance the history of all of the political parties in our country, from which one obtains a rapid and comprehensive idea of the entire subject. To the librarian, the public man, and the student, as well as to all people of intelligence, it is invaluable.

In the Day of Battle

A Romance

By J. A. STEUART

Author of "Kilgroom; a Story of Ireland," etc.

12 MO. CLOTH, - $1.25

NEELY'S INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY

London Globe "There is not a dull page. Narrative and descriptive power of a high order is shown in all, and the tale as a whole will be voted striking and absorbing in the extreme."

National Observer "The author has not been afraid to break new ground. The story moves. It carries the reader on from page to page under the influence of an excitement which rarely fails, and it leaves him at the end a little breathless perhaps, but in no sense exhausted. To say this is to say that Mr. Steuart has succeeded in his object."

Daily Telegram "A good, honest, wholesome novel. In the ranks of our new school of romance the author deserves to find a prominent place."

World "A bold and stirring story, full of color, incident and strife."

Sun "A splendid story. The book must be read in its entirety to be fairly appreciated. It raises its author to a high rank among contemporary novelists.

Observer "A book to read and to enjoy."

Court Journal "An altogether exceptional book. Full of romance and excitement. Well written and of unflagging interest from the title page to the end."

Author "Has succeeded in giving his tale an almost breathless realism, and if it is success to drive his reader on from page to page until one reaches the last, he has certainly succeeded."

St. James Budget "It is a strong, stirring and attractive story, promising well for what Mr. Steuart may give us in the future."

Liverpool Post "Mr. Steuart has a lively and flowing style. His invention is never at fault and his book may safely be put in the hands of the juveniles."

St. Paul's "A book of this kind cannot be too highly recommended."

Literary World "Whether Mr. John Steuart sat down to the task of writing a novel that should, as far as bounty of adventures goes, out-Stevenson Stevenson, out-Weyman Weyman, out-Haggard Haggard, we cannot pretend to say; but whatever his intentions may have been, it is quite certain that the author yields to no individual of this trio in administering to his readers a dose of events stirring enough to make old blood run with the impetus of youth."

Guardian "Exceedingly good."

Cincinnati Times-Star "It is not lacking in exciting adventures and picturesque descriptions."

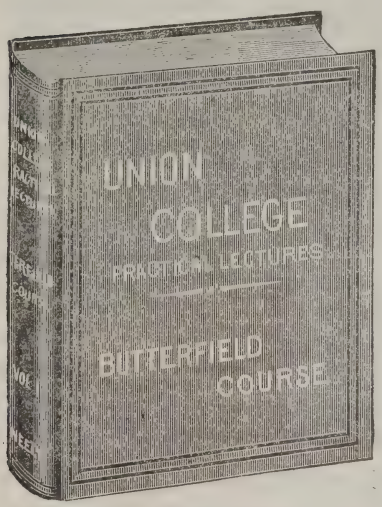
Denver Times "The mind reverts to Weyman and Haggard and Stevenson in the reading of this story."

Cincinnati Tribune "Told in good style and intensely interesting."

Daily Union "It is as wild as a story of Rider Haggard's but not as barbaric, for it deals with people we know something about, and the interest is more closely sustained on account of its human quality."

State Register "This is probably one of the most interesting and exciting tales of adventure now in print."

Public Opinion "Bubbling over with action and no lack of imagination."



Nashville Banner "The reader is given no chance to skip, so rapidly do the thrilling incidents follow each other. The story belongs to the buried treasure class. It hangs well together and there is no effort at melodramatic effect."

A Revival of Washington

ETHAN ALLEN'S

★ DRAMA OF THE

★ REVOLUTION

A Drama, by Ethan Allen. In two parts. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50 for each part. Over 100 illustrations. Author's portrait frontispiece.

The following are extracts from voluntary letters and reviews received during the first month after publication.

General Daniel Butterfield. "I have read a second time Ethan Allen's wonderful production of the Drama of the Revolution. I say wonderful, because he has condensed and produced in most interesting and inspirited form a mass of history, most of which every American does or should know, with a large amount, that, with all my reading and study, I did not know. It should be in the library of every public school in the land. I am fascinated with it."

William L. Stone A Leading Historian of the United States; Author of "Life and Times of Sir William Johnson, Bart.;" "Burgoyne's Campaign;" "Saratoga Battle Grounds;" "History of New York City;" and many other notable works

I can say nothing that will better show my appreciation of this 'Drama' than that I have just finished it, and feel that I can't retire to sleep till I have written this criticism, now half past one o'clock at night. I can honestly say, the author has made a most grand success. It is splendid! The style is perspicuous; the characters very naturally drawn; the historic details absolutely correct; while at the same time the narrative glides along smoothly and gracefully, each event leading up to the next without any straining. It will surely take high rank as a permanent classic, and the time is near when not to have read it will be a mark of ignorance. It should be introduced at once into our schools as a reader. A higher reward than this no man could ask."

Enoch Henry Courier President of N. Y. State Institution for Deaf and Dumb, probably the largest College of the kind in the world.

"I must congratulate the author upon having created an American classic. As such I shall hereafter use it in the Academic Department of this Institution."

James R. Truax Professor in Union College.

"Ranks high in scholarship and literary quality."

Rev. D. C. John, LL.D. President of "Clark University," South Atlanta, Ga.

"This Drama is elegant, quaint, crisp, patriotic and inspiring: just such a book as all American students should read. I think it is the most historic drama and the best I ever read."

Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson (Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson) Past President General, Daughters of the American Revolution.

"This delightful volume, 'The Drama of the Revolution,' is a spirited, realistic work, and cannot fail to arouse renewed interest in the men and women of those days that tried men's souls."

Frank B. Carpenter Author of "Life of Lincoln;" "Six Months in the White House;" and Artist of "Emancipation Proclamation," in Washington; and "Arbitration of Alabama Claims," in Windsor Castle, England.

"I became more deeply interested in this 'drama' than ever before in a book of its class. In constructive ability it is most wonderful. The whole story of our struggle for freedom is told. Its language is poetic blank verse, as can readily be observed, and it should be so printed. It is the work of a copyist to give it the metrical form, for which evidently it is written. It is a work to live, and for this generation to be proud of."

RACHEL DENE.

By Robert Buchanan.

Author of "The Charlatan," "The Shadow of the Sword," "God and the Man."

12mo. Cloth, $1.25.

(NEELY'S INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY.)

Harrisburg Telegram. "Rachel Dene is one of Robert Buchanan's best works."

Cincinnati Tribune. "This is a good story."

Rocky Mountain News. "Rachel Dene by Robert Buchanan is one of his best stories."

Record Union. "Mr. Buchanan has not presented a stronger story. He prefaces it with the story of his life in literature and gives the writers and ambitious youth some excellent advice."

Commercial Bulletin. "An excellent story full of strong points, both constructively and from a literary standpoint. It is practical. It deals with the dark and bright side of life, but always to show the advantage of the bright side."

Nashville Christian Advocate. "The book is clean and wholesome—enough of complexity in the plot to furnish the reader with occasional surprises."

Fullerton News. "A very fascinating tale."

Western Christian Advocate. "Fascinating, stimulating—a novel of love, murder, jealousy, false imprisonment, escape and vindication.

Boston Ideas. "Its elements are excellently characteristic—very likely due to its being an accurate picture for which commendation is due."

The American. "Is fully equal, if not superior to his former novels."

The Gates of Dawn.

By Fergus Hume.

Author of "Mystery of a Hansom Cab," "Miss Mephistopheles," etc., etc.

12mo. Cloth, $1.25.

(NEELY'S INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY.)

Otis Library Bulletin. A remarkably versatile and ingenious romance, replete with vivid descriptions and stirring incidents."

Nashville Banner. "A well arranged plot and the interest of the story is well sustained."

Mr. Hume has built around a group of interesting characters a story of the old order of plot and counterplot, where there is mystery surrounding the heroine's birth—a wealthy man, in disguise, meets and loves her—a wicked female villain brings danger to the course of their true love—a good friend aids them in their hour of need, and all ends well. The people who make up this story are "A doctor addicted to opium, a pair of gypsies, a recluse lady, a lovely huntress, and a sporting parson," besides the hero, a lord of high degree, Pete, a fox terrier, and Simon, a horse. There is a mysterious hatching of plots among the gypsies and much prophesying. The parson is a "simple, kindly old fellow, given to strong ale, terriers and bluster." There is a great house with a witch, who holds nightly orgies in the empty rooms at midnight, from which come cries of tortured women and dying men, while by day this witch "tires her head, decks herself with gems, clothes herself in rich garments," and makes a mystery of herself generally It is by far Fergus Hume's best book.

Father Stafford

BY

ANTHONY HOPE.

The Most Remarkable of Mr. Hope's Stories.

Neely's Prismatic Library. Buckram, Gilt Top, 75 cts.

Minneapolis Tribune "This story is in the genuine Hope style, and for that reason will be widely read."

Public Ledger Philadelphia "'Father Stafford' is extremely clever, a bold privateer venturing upon the high seas."

San Francisco Chronicle "It is a good story, the strong parts of which are the conflict between love and conscience on the part of a young Anglican priest. The charm of the book, however, lies in the briskness of the dialogue, which is as finely finished as any of Hope's novels.

Nashville Banner "'Father Stafford' is a charming story. The whole book sustains the reputation that Anthony Hope has made, and adds another proof that as a portrayer of characters of sharp distinctness and individuality, he has no superior."

Evening Wisconsin "A writer of great merit. . . . Mr. Hope's work has a quality of straightforwardness that recommends it to readers who have grown tired of the loaded novel."

Phillipsburg Journal "This is considered by his critics to be one of the strongest, most beautiful and interesting novels Mr. Hope has ever written. There is not a dull line in the entire volume."

Amusement Gazette "The dialogue is bright and worldly, and the other characters do not suffer because so prominent is the hero; they are well drawn and quite out of the ordinary."

Vanity, New York "A very interesting narrative, and Mr. Hope tells the story after that fashion which he would seem to have made peculiarly his own."

Kansas City Journal "There is something more than the romance of the action to hold the reader's mind. It is one of the author's best productions."

Every Saturday, Elgin, Ill. "Anthony Hope is a master of dialogue, and to his art in this particular is due the enticing interest which leads the reader on from page to page."

Hebrew Standard "The strife between the obligation of a vow of celibacy and the promptings of true love are vividly portrayed in this little book. . . . It contains an admirable description of English country life, and is well written."

Boston Daily Globe "It has enough of the charm of the author's thought and style to identify it as characteristic, and make it very pleasing."

IN THE QUARTER.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS,

Author of "The King in Yellow."

Cloth, $1.25. Paper, 50 Cents.

Neely's Library of Choice Literature.

New York World "It is a story of life in Paris. . . that has good descriptions of dramatic scenes."

Book Buyer "It is a story of a man who tried to reconcile irreconcilable
New York facts. . . . Mr. Chambers tells it with a happy choice of words, thus putting 'to proof the art alien to the artists.' . . . It is not a book for the unsophisticated, yet its morality is high and unmistakable."

Brooklyn Citizen "Full of romantic incidents. . . ."

Boston Courier "Interesting novel of French life. . . ."

Boston Traveller "A story of student life written with dash. . . . and surety of handling. . . ."

Boston Times "Well written, bright, vivid; the ending is highly dramatic."

New York Sunday World "Charming story of Bohemian life, with its buoyancy, its romance, and its wild joy of youth . . vividly depicted in this graceful tale by one who, like Daudet, knows his Paris. Some pages are exquisitely beautiful."

Philadelphia Bulletin "Idyllic—charming. Mr. Chambers' story is delicately told."

N. Y. Evening Telegram "It is a good story in its way. It is good in several ways. There are glimpses of the model and of the grisette—all dainty enough. The most of it might have come from so severe a moralist as George Eliot or even Bayard Taylor. . . . ."

N. Y. Commercial Advertiser "A very vivid and touchingly told story. The tale is interesting because it reflects with fidelity the life led by certain sets of art students. A genuine romance, charmingly told."

Congregationalist, Boston "Vivid, realistic. There is much of nobility in it. A decided and excellent moral influence. It is charmingly written from cover to cover. . . . ."

Vogue, New York "The author is to be congratulated on the literary skill shown in what is reported to be his first attempt at novel writing, his characterization being especially clever. The author treats his theme with a refinement that softens, but does not gloss over, the excesses of temptations that beset youths; and he shows himself keenly observant of everyday life of the Latin Quarter. . . . ."

Christian Register "Simply written and holds one's interest from beginning to end."

Los Angeles Herald 'Mr. Chambers writes with a happy choice of words, thus putting 'to proof the art alien to the artists' and the character drawings in the studios has in it a whiff of 'Trilby.' The morality of the book is high and unmistakable."

St. Paul Globe "An absorbing story of American and English art student's life in Paris. Mr. Chambers writes well."

Southern Star "One of the best novels of the day. The plot is deep and well laid, while the characters are all cleverly drawn."

Boston Ideas "It is the pleasantest romance of the Latin quarter of Paris that we have read—that is, it possesses broad moral strength in its whole attitude and treatment; the kind of strength arising from experience and from recognition of the essential truths of human nature the world over and of their just solution in the cause of true manhood and womanhood."

Portland Oregonian "A novel of more than usual power."

San Jose Mercury "A well written book . . presents an interesting picture of student life in Paris and is entertaining from beginning to end.

PAOLA CORLETH,

THE FAIR ITALIAN.

BY

ALICE HOWARD HILTON,

AUTHOR OF "A BLONDE CREOLE."

THIS is a charming romance of life in Italy and New Orleans—of a pretty Italian maid, daughter of a Neapolitan nobleman, who elopes with the lover of her choice, a poor musician, and being hounded by the emissaries of a disappointed suitor, in conjunction with her angry father, they start for America, settling in the famous French Quarter of New Orleans.

The story is sweet and pure, and full of exceeding pathos—the descriptive bits of old New Orleans, with its Jackson Square and St. Louis Cathedral, opposite, are clever pictures of the Creole City of the past. Since Cable has ceased his admirable novels of these interesting people, the public will undoubtedly welcome an addition to Creole literature from the pen of one so thoroughly conversant with the subject as Mrs. Hilton.

"Observations of a Bachelor."

By LOUIS LOMBARD.

Neely's Prismatic Library, Gilt Top, 75 Cents.

The views of a bachelor, sacred and profane, ar always of more than passing interest. Ik Marvel's "Reveries" have for many years held an affectionate corner in the hearts of all reading mankind, and the name of that other equally famous bachelor, as well as philosopher, Dr. Max Nordau, is one with which to conjure. The author's fearless handling of such delicate subjects as Celibacy and Marriage, from the peculiar standpoint of a bachelor, stamps him a true disciple of the master, Nordau, whose letter of warm commendation introduces the book to the thinking public.

Philadelphia Item:—"There is not a dry line in the book."

Baltimore News:—"He puts facts with a straightforwardness that should prove helpful. The book is to be recommended."

Detroit Free Press:—"Clear, terse and epigrammatic."

Albany Argus:—"A striking little volume."

N. Y. Bookseller, Newsdealer, Stationer:—"Some of the papers outdo Nordau himself. The author is delightfully outspoken, and fearless of what may be thought of his views. He is severe and pessimistic, but there is a good deal of truth in his pictures of society and custom."

San Francisco Bulletin:—"Will receive the careful attention of of a thoughtful public. Of interest to a wide circle of readers."

N. Y. Press:—"Our new Rochefoucauld, Louis Lombard. Read his book."

Cincinnati Enquirer:—"His fearless handling of 'Celibacy and Marriage' stamps him a true disciple of Max Nordau."

N. Y. Commercial Advertiser:—"A bright little volume. There is quickness of observation and depth of thought."

Captain King is acknowledged to be without a peer in his chosen field, which he industriously cultivates. FORT FRAYNE

A NEW NOVEL OF

Army Life in the Northwest.

By CAPTAIN CHARLES KING, U. S. A.,

Author of "The Colonel's Daughter," "A Wartime Wooing."

12MO. CLOTH, $1.25.

NEELY'S INTERNATIONAL LIBRARY.

Captain King is probably the most popular American novelist of to-day. He always has a good story to tell and tells it with spirit. There is no lack of climaxes, of strong situations, of dramatic incidents. The reader feels the author's delight in his own stirring story, and is carried on by the thrilling movement of the plot, to the end.

Captain King's novels have been sold by the hundreds of thousands. He is known everywhere, and it is because he does not disappoint his readers. He gives them entertaining, exciting stories that are always full of surprises and end happily.

New York Herald "The Captain has done many good things. He has a facile pen—too facile, I sometimes think—and tells a story in a way to excite the admiration of boys and stir the blood of old men. He knows how to handle incidents, and does it with skill. I like to read him, and if I had twenty or thirty boys I should buy this book for their delectation."

Burlington Free Press "Captain Charles King always has a good story to tell and tells it with spirit. The reader feels the author's delight in his own stirring plot. His novels have been sold by the hundreds of thousands, because he does not disappoint the public. 'Fort Frayne' is fully as exciting as anything that he has yet published."

Boston Evening Gazette "A brisk, bright, military tale, with plenty of movement and it relates to exciting incidents at a northwest army post, a couple of decades ago. The personages who figure in the narrative stand out distinctly from its pages and the descriptions are exceedingly graphic."

Boston Globe "Written from memory of the lost manuscript of a drama play to which others contributed. Most of its action is in Wyoming. Garrison society, soldiers and Sioux Indians, make the scene brilliantly descriptive of army life. The plot is somewhat sensational but it is entertaining every moment.

Oregonian "A story of modern Indian warfare and modern love affairs in a Wyoming fort, and is full of interest, and lively interest."

Milwaukee Journal "A typical King story, entirely in his customary vein and fully as interesting as any he has written; well constructed and full of admirable incidents. Captain King makes this story the medium of a defense of the army method of dealing with Indians, or rather a criticism on the Government system of treating the wards of a nation and, indeed, he makes out a strong case for the army."

Weekly Wisconsin "Done with his acknowledged skill. The work is probably one of the best of the many army stories that he has given the reading world. Breezy and exciting throughout.

Denver Republican "Pleasant reading, pure and wholesome. While the plot of this tale is not materially different from the others of this writer, it holds the interest of the reader, and the garrison tragedies, love scenes and comedies are painted with the brush of one who sketches from life, and few writers excel Captain King in the realistic picture of battle scenes."

THAT EURASIAN

ALEPH BEY

Neely's International Library.

Cloth, $1.25

A work of decidedly unique character. It deals with a class of people which has heretofore seldom figured in our literature, viz., that large family of half European and half Hindu parentage so numerous in British India. The abuses and indignities to which these people are subjected have long been well known to those who have given any attention to the condition of affairs in British India during the past half century, but the general public is strangely ignorant of all this. The many startling revelations made by the author of this book, who is an European long resident in India, will be received with something like wonderment and horror.

New York World "It is one of the most extraordinary books of the century * * * more than worthy of study."

Boston Ideas "A revelation of a condition of life of which doubtless very few Americans have the slightest idea * * * a unique narrative and a most valuable revelation of individual character developed and trained under the named conditions."

Chicago Times-Herald "The subject is a mighty one and one which, if it is remote from our own special interests, is no more remote than the question of Hindooism which concerns our missionaries so absorbingly * * * it is a race to which terrible injustice has been done, not more in its treatment than in its existence. Aleph Bey has done a good service in writing a story of Eurasians. They should not be ignored."

Chicago Mail "A powerfully written book, treating its subject with masterly precision. The abuses and indignities to which this people are subjected are given without affectation. The coloring of creeds is vividly contrasted. The under-currents of certain social ethics are revealed. As a whole, it is an appeal in behalf of an existing brutal slavery."

Chicago Evening Post "Intended to open the eyes of the world to the enormities that have been perpetrated in British India under the plea of advancing civilization."

Boston Congregationalist "It is an actual condition and not a theory which is described and discussed. The terrible oppression in various forms to which the Eurasian is at present subjected as a matter of course is distinctly portrayed, together with the course of thought almost inevitable in the minds of the intelligent among them and leading directly towards utter skepticism in religion. The trend of the book, however, is toward defending and inculcating a true type of Christianity although nominal and official Christianity as it is found in English settlements in India comes in for some scathing denunciation. This is one of the more engrossing volumes of recent weeks."

New York Commercial Advertiser "A well written book and the author has certainly gone considerably beyond the point the conventional writer of fiction generally does to gather his material. The work can be put in that immense class of 'novels with a purpose,' told in a swift straightforward and energetic manner."

Indianapolis Sentinel "A strong book. Americans have for a long time criticised England's policy in India as being unchristian and barbarous in the extreme, and this volume will greatly stimulate such criticism. The work is very ably written."

Omaha Bee. "Throws much light on the customs that have grown up by the contact of the British with the native races in India."

Boston Traveller "Many startling things are adduced, and the story is told with much vivid power."

12 Mo. Cloth, $1.25.

Harrisburg Telegram "Interesting and well told."

Indianapolis Sentinel "The story is an entertaining one. An American gentleman plays an important part and gives the author occasion to pay us a compliment by saying that 'Where women are concerned there is no person so delicately chivalrous than your American gentleman.'"

Post Intelligencer "The mere announcement of a story from Grant Allen's pen is sufficient for those who enjoy the work of a masterhand."

New York Independent "A right charming style of story telling and everything he writes enforces attention."

Chicago Mail "Excellently planned and entertainingly carried out."

Boston Ideas "The depth and sincerity of its suggestiveness forms a valuable novel. Its manner is very frank and clear."

Commercial Appeal "Mr. Allen's English is vigorous and his characters are very strongly drawn in the main. We find a charm in the book we did not expect to find."

Daily Register "Mr. Allen has constructed a remarkably clever story. Its characters are interesting and there is action throughout to keep up the interest."

Penny Press "The book contains both bits of modern philosophy and love episodes of decidedly romantic nature."

In Strange Company.

BY GUY BOOTHBY,

Author of "On the Wallaby." Six Full Page Illustrations by Stanley L. Wood.

12 Mo. Cloth, $1.25.

(Neely's International Library.)

Cincinnati Tribune "It is a novel with a purpose—that is, to entertain and interest, and it certainly succeeds."

The World "A capital novel of its kind—the sensational adventurous. It has the quality of life and stir, and will carry the reader with curiosity unabated to the end."

The Pall Mall Budget "The best of them is 'In Strange Company.' * * The book is a good tale of adventure; it has plenty of astonishing incidents which yet have an air of versimilitude."

The Yorkshire Post "One of the most successful novels of its order we have recently seen. Its general resemblance is to what may be called the buried treasure class. * * The story hangs well together; its villains are picturesque and almost engaging people; its dialogue singularly free from the melodramatic element."

The Glasgow Herald "Mr. Boothby gives the reader no chance of skipping. 'In Strange Company' is full of strange adventures to the end. * * A thoroughly exciting story told with considerable ability."

The Morning Post "Will prove far more interesting to him who is past his first youth than the majority of tales of adventure. Its incidents are as exciting as is the rule in books of this kind, but they remain fairly within the bounds of the possible, and there is a picturesque vigor in the author's description of Chili and the southern seas."

THE KING IN YELLOW.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

Author of "In the Quarter."

NEELY'S PRISMATIC LIBRARY.

Buckram, Gilt Top - - - 75 Cents.

Edward Ellis "The author is a genius without a living equal, so far as I am aware, in his peculiar field. It is a masterpiece. . . I have read many portions several times, captivated by the unapproachable tints of the painting. None but a genius of the highest order could do such work."

Philadelphia Times "Charming, delicate, skillful, vivid."

Philadelphia Item "Expected to make a sensation, charming, full of color and delicately tinted."

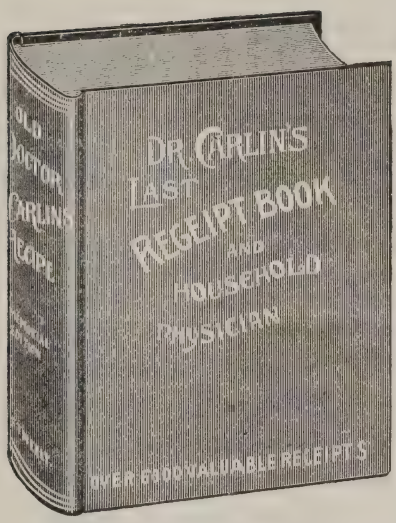
N. Y. Commercial Advertiser "The short prose tale should be a synthesis; it was the art of Edgar Poe, it is the art of Mr. Chambers. . . . His is beyond question a glorious heritage. . . I fancy the book will create a sensation; . . in any case it is the most notable contribution to literature which has come from an American publisher for many years; and fine as the accomplishment is, 'The King in Yellow' is large in promise. One has a right to expect a great deal from an author of this calibre."

Times-Herald "The most eccentric little volume of its (little) day. 'The King in Yellow' is subtly fascinating, and compels attention for its style and its wealth of strange, imaginative force."

New York Times "Mr. Robert W. Chambers does not have a system to work up to; he has no fad, save a tendency to write about the marvelous and the impossible; painting pictures of romance that have a wild inspiration about them. Descriptive powers of no mean quality are perceptible in this volume of stories."

The New York World "Mr. Chambers has a great command of words; he is a good painter. His situations are most delicately touched and some of his descriptions are exquisite. He writes like an artist. He uses colors rather than ideas. . . The best drama in the volume means madness. The tenderest fancy is a sad mirage. . . 'The King in Yellow' is a very interesting contribution to the present fund of materio-mysticism. . . To read Mr. Chambers' little book is to escape from the actual on poetical wings."

Minneapolis Tribune "They have a mysterious, eerie air about them that is apt to stimulate the reader's curiosity."



Cleveland Gazette "It is wondrous strong, dramatic, full of color, weird, uncanny, picturesque, and yet a gem of exquisite coloring, dreamy, symbolic, exciting."

Detroit Journal "'The King in Yellow' compels attention."

Denver Times "Treated in a most fascinating way; Weird, mysterious, powerful"

The Dial says: ". . . The catalogue of themes treated and the compactness and lucidity of the articles are a delight to the reader. The wealth of illustrations of the best sort—not old worn-out cuts—adds greatly to the beauty and completeness of the articles. The natural-history sections are especially fine in matter and make-up. The Concordance is the most complete yet produced, being adapted both to the Authorized and to the Revised Versions, and containing also proper names. We also find incorporated in it several themes which, in other helps, are found merely in separate sections under the dry uninteresting form of tables. . . . This feature simplifies the Bible student's task. . . . Is nearest the ideal Bible student's manual of any publication in its field."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

New York Observer says: ". . . There is no book like this. Its aim is to place the student in the age and atmosphere when each book of the Bible was written, to enable the reader to study the book amid its surroundings and to become permeated with its life. The writers who have combined to make the volume are among the most celebrated Bible students, scholars, Egyptologists, and divines of Great Britain and America. . . . More than three hundred and fifty illustrations accompany the text, and all of them are of value to the students of the Bible. They are not pictures so much as guides and expositors in the Holy Word. . . . Such a book demands attentive study and rewards it. It is a result of ripe learning consecrated to the best of uses, and it will be of great service to those who read and teach the word of God."

The Independent says: "'The Illustrated Bible Treasury.' . . . It is one of those wonderful 'helps' to the popular study of the Bible which both illustrates the enormous amount of fruitful, critical study which has been applied to the Bible in our time and gives the best possible assurance that the Sacred Book has gained in weight, importance and in the reverent feeling of the people for it. Of all the 'aids' for the popular study of the Bible, which belong in the general class of Teachers' Bibles, this is easily foremost and best. . . . The marked feature of the Treasury is that every part of it is new, and that it contains none of that sequacious compilation which is based on works once in repute but which at the best rise no higher than belated attempts to bring an old thing up to the gauge of a new one. . . . The number of contributors who have taken part in the work is thirty-eight. They make a list which commands confidence and challenges admiration."

The Evangelist says: ". . . It is in the character of the 'helps' and the men who have written them, that this edition of the Bible exceeds in value all that have preceded it."

Christian Intelligencer says: ". . . It has no superior . . . the best series of 'Helps' in existence. It is, indeed, a 'Treasury' filled with pearls of great price."—March 10, 1897.

MONUMENTAL TESTIMONY TO THE OLD TESTAMENT.

MONUMENTAL TESTIMONY TO THE OLD TESTAMENT.

BY PROFESSOR A. H. SAYCE, LL.D.

PART II.

CHUSHAN-RISHATHAIM'S CONQUEST OF ISRAEL. — We have learned from the Tel el-Amarna tablets that Palestine had been invaded by the forces of Aram-naharaim (A. V. "Mesopotamia") more than once, long before the Exodus, and that at the time they were written, the king of Aram-naharaim was still intriguing in Canaan. It is mentioned among the countries which took part in the attack upon Egypt in the reign of Ramses III. (of the Twentieth Dynasty), but as its king is not one of the princes stated to have been conquered by the Pharaoh, it would seem that he did not actually enter Egypt. As the reign of Ramses III. corresponds with the Israelitish occupation of Canaan, it is probable that the Egyptian monuments refer to the oppression of the Israelites by Chushan-rishathaim. Canaan was still regarded as a province of Egypt, so that, in attacking it, Chushan-rishathaim would have been considered to be attacking Egypt.

SHISHAK'S INVASION OF JUDAH. — Shishak (Shashanq in Egyptian), the founder of the Egyptian Twenty-second Dynasty, has given on the southern wall of the temple of Karnak, a list of the places he captured in Palestine.

SHISHAK TAKING JEWS INTO CAPTIVITY.
From a Wall of Karnak (Lepsius).

Shishak holds in his hand strings, leading various captives supposed to have been taken in his invasion of Judah. (2 Chr. 12. 2-9.)

TREASURY OF ANTIQUITIES, ETC.

GOLDEN CANDLESTICK WITH SEVEN BRANCHES.
(From a Photograph.)
Being part of the spoil of Jerusalem, in the bas-relief on the Arch of Titus, Rome.

the lighting of the candlestick was attended to. No blood touched it, save that of the sin-offering, which was annually put on its corners to make atonement. It symbolized the required and acceptable adoration of the people of God (Ex. 30. 1-10; 40. 5; cf. Heb. 9. 4).

The TABLE OF SHEWBREAD stood on the northern side of the Sanctuary. It measured two cubits long, one broad, and one and a half high, was made of acacia wood overlaid with gold, was bordered by a golden crown, and was provided at each corner with a ring for the staves by which it was transported. On it were displayed in two rows the twelve cakes — which, according to Jewish tradition, were unleavened — called the Shewbread, or, literally, Bread of the Presence. The bread was changed every Sabbath, and the old loaves were eaten by the priests in the Sanctuary. These loaves, placed in the presence of Jehovah, probably symbolized the constant communion of His people with Him in those things which His bounty provided, and which they enjoyed in His presence and used in His service (Ex. 25. 23-30; Lev. 24. 5-9).

The GOLDEN CANDLESTICK stood on the south side of the Sanctuary. It consisted of a base and shaft with six branches, beaten out of solid gold, and furnished with seven lamps. A talent of gold was used in making it and its appurtenances. Pure olive oil was burned; the lamps were filled (or lighted?) every evening and cleaned every morning; and, according to Josephus, three of them were kept constantly burning by day. It was a fit symbol of the continued existence, the uninterrupted worship, and the unceasing emission of light by the people of God (Ex. 25. 31-40; 27. 20; 30. 7, 8; Lev. 24. 2-4; 1 Sam. 3. 3; cf. Zech. 4; Antiq. III. viii. 3).

The BRAZEN ALTAR, or ALTAR OF BURNT OFFERING, stood in the outer court, and directly in front of the Tabernacle. It was five cubits square and three cubits high, and consisted of a frame of acacia wood overlaid with brass. It was provided with rings and staves for transportation, and had projections like horns on its upper corners, and a platform round about it and half-way up it for the priests to stand on. No steps were allowed. It was hollow, and was probably filled with earth wherever erected.

It was at this altar that all sacrifice was offered. It was the first object met by those who would approach God, and it distinctly taught that man could not approach Jehovah except as a sinner atoned for by blood (Ex. 27. 1-8).

The LAVER of brass stood upon a base of brass

THE TRAVELS OF ST. PAUL.

BY SIR CHARLES WILSON, K.C.B.

ANTIOCH, the metropolis of the Greek kings of Syria, and afterwards the residence of the Roman governors of the province of the same name, stood on the left bank of the Orontes, which a little lower down separates the range of Mount Amanus from the chain of Lebanon. Built partly on an island, partly on low ground, and partly on the rocky slopes of Mount Silpius, it was a city of singular beauty, adorned with magnificent temples, palaces, and colonnades. Its delightful climate, and the close proximity of the sanctuary of Apollo — with its fountains, its groves, and its licentious rites — attracted pleasure-seekers from all parts of the Roman Empire. But a large majority of its population was a worthless rabble of Greeks and Orientals, which passed its time in the theatres or in faction fights on the race-course. There was also a large Jewish colony dating from the time when, under the Seleucid monarchs, and especially during the reign of Antiochus Epiphanes, Antioch was closely connected with Jewish history. How far the Antiochian Jews had been able to resist the Greek influence to which they were exposed is uncertain; but many of the Greeks appear to have become "God-fearing proselytes," or "Proselytes of the Gate."

On the dispersion that followed the martyrdom of Stephen, certain Jews of Cyprus and Cyrene, who had been brought up in Greek lands, came to Antioch, and addressed both Jews and Greek proselytes in the synagogue. Their preaching was successful. A mixed body of Jews and Greek proselytes formed a primitive congregation, which gradually increased in numbers until it attracted the attention of the church in Jerusalem. In accordance with a former precedent (Acts 8. 14), Barnabas, "a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith," was sent by the church to encourage the new congregation. After exhorting them to "cleave unto the Lord," he went to Tarsus to seek for Saul, whose sponsor he had been before the apostles at Jerusalem, and whose special qualifications for work amongst the Gentiles he knew. They returned together (43 A.D.), and henceforth Antioch becomes the centre of progress and of historical interest in the church. Here the brethren were first called Christians, or "they that are connected with Christos" — a title that could not have originated with the Jews. Whether Christos were a god or a leader the Antiochians knew not, and popular fancy changed the name to Chrêstos ("good, useful"), a term which occurs in the form Chrêstians in inscriptions.

Agabus having foretold a dearth, the congregation sent Barnabas and Saul with relief to the brethren in Judæa. The visit, probably that referred to in Gal. 2. 2 as due to a revelation, marks an important stage in the development of the church. The older apostles recognized the apostleship of Barnabas and Saul (Gal. 2. 9), and their special mission to "preach Him among the Gentiles." Saul was also able to confer privately

CHAPTER 23.

THEN Job answered and said,
2 Even to day is my complaint bitter: [1] my stroke is heavier than my groaning.
3 Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his seat!
4 I would order my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would know the words which he would answer me, and understand what he would say unto me.
6 [b] Will he plead against me with his great power? No; but he would put strength in me.
7 There the righteous might dispute with him; so should I be delivered for ever from my judge.
8 [c] Behold, I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him:
9 On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him:
10 But he [g] knoweth [3] the way that I take: when [h] he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold.
11 [i] My foot hath held his steps, his way have I kept, and not declined.
12 Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; [l] I [5] have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my [6] necessary food.
13 But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth.
14 For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many such things are with him.
15 Therefore am I troubled at his presence: when I consider, I am afraid of him.
16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the Almighty troubleth me:
17 Because I was not cut off before the darkness, neither hath he covered the darkness from my face.

CHAPTER 24.

WHY, seeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not see his days?
2 [a] Some remove the landmarks; they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.
3 They drive away the ass of the fatherless, they take the widow's ox for a pledge.
4 They turn the needy out of the way: the poor of the earth hide themselves together.
5 Behold, as wild asses in the desert go they forth to their work; rising betimes for a prey: the wilderness yieldeth food for them and for their children.
6 They reap every one his corn in the field: and they gather the vintage of the wicked.
7 They cause the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.
8 They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a shelter.
9 They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor.
10 They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaf from the hungry;
11 Which make oil within their walls, and tread their winepresses, and suffer thirst.
12 Men groan from out of the city, and the soul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.
13 They are of those that rebel against the light; they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.
14 [c] The murderer rising with the light killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.
15 [c] The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, [d] saying, No eye shall see me: and [2] disguiseth his face.
16 In the dark they dig through houses, which they had marked for themselves in the daytime: [f] they know not the light.
17 For the morning is to them even as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.
18 He is swift as the waters; their portion is cursed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.
19 Drought and heat [4] consume the snow waters: so doth the grave those which have sinned.
20 The womb shall forget him; the worm shall feed sweetly on him; [k] he shall be no more remembered; and wickedness

David's thirst for God. PSALMS. He praiseth God.

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: [a] if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.
11 God hath spoken [b] once; twice have I heard this; that [3] power belongeth unto God.
12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for [c] thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM 63.

1 David's thirst for God. 4 His manner of blessing God.

A Psalm of David, * when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: /my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and [5] thirsty land, [6] where no water is;
2 To see [g] thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.
3 Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.
4 Thus will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
5 My soul shall be satisfied as with [9] marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:
6 When [m] I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.
7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
8 My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
10 [1] They shall fall by the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the king shall rejoice in God:

8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: [d] all that see them shall flee away.
9 And all men shall fear, and shall [e] declare the work of God; for they shall wisely consider of his doing.
10 The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:

5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

Israelites overcome, I. SAMUEL, 4. and the ark taken.

CHAPTER 4.

1 The Israelites are overcome by the Philistines. 11 The ark is taken, and Hophni and Phinehas are slain. 18 Eli falleth backward. 19 I-chabod is born.

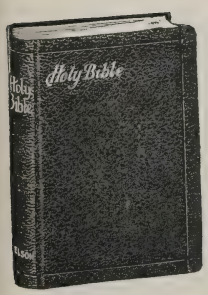
AND the word of Samuel came to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and pitched beside Eben-ezer: and the Philistines pitched in Aphek.

2 And the Philistines put themselves in array against Israel: and when they joined battle, Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew of the army in the field about four thousand men.

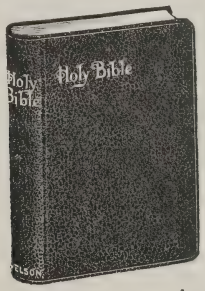
3 ¶ And when the people were come into the camp, the elders of Israel said, Wherefore hath the LORD smitten us to day before the Philistines? Let us fetch the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of Shiloh unto us, that, when it cometh among us, it may save us out of the hand of our enemies.

4 So the people sent to Shiloh, that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness.



9 Be strong, and quit yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight.

10 ¶ And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen.



11 And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were slain.

12 ¶ And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the army, and came to Shiloh the same day with his clothes rent, and with earth upon his head.

13 And when he came, lo, Eli sat upon a seat by the wayside watching: for his heart trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city, and told it, all the city cried out.

Paul's manner II. CORINTHIANS, 2. of preaching.

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are our's in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judæa.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh,

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Having shewed the reason why he came not to them, 6 he requireth them to forgive the excommunicated person. 14 The happy success of his preaching.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he thĕn that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I

Of the flesh GALATIANS, 6. and Spirit.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.
16 This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.
17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.
18 But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.
19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,
20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,
21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.
22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith,
23 Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.
24 And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.
25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.
26 Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6.

1 He moveth them to deal mildly with a brother that hath slipped: 2 to bear one another's burden, &c.

BRETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.
2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.
3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.
4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another.
5 For every man shall bear his own burden.
6 Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.
7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.
9 And let us not be weary in

PSALMS.

PSALM 25.

1 David's confidence in prayer. 7 He prayeth for remission of sins, 16 and for help in affliction.

A Psalm of David.

UNTO thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul.
2 O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.
3 Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be ashamed which transgress without cause.
4 Shew me thy ways, O LORD; teach me thy paths.
5 Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.
6 Remember, O LORD, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses; for they have been ever of old.
7 Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness' sake, O LORD.
8 Good and upright is the LORD: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
9 The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.
10 All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.
11 For thy name's sake, O LORD, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.
12 What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.
13 His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth.
14 The secret of the LORD is with them that fear him; and he will shew them his covenant.
15 Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net.
16 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me; for I am desolate and afflicted.
17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.
18 Look upon mine affliction and my pain; and forgive all my sins.
19 Consider mine enemies; for they are many; and they hate me with cruel hatred.
20 O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed; for I put my trust in thee.
21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee.
22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSALM 26.

David resorteth unto God in confidence of his integrity.

A Psalm of David.

JUDGE me, O LORD; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the LORD; therefore I shall not slide.
2 Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.

35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

PSALM 59. Eripe me de inimicis.

DELIVER me from mine enemies, O God: defend me from them that rise up against me.

2 O deliver me from the wicked doers: and save me from the blood-thirsty men.

3 For lo, they lie waiting for my soul: the mighty men are gathered against me, without any offence or fault of me, O LORD.

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault: arise thou therefore to help me, and behold.

5 Stand up, O LORD God of hosts, thou God of Israel, to visit all the heathen: and be not merciful unto them that offend of malicious wickedness.

6 They go to and fro in the evening: they grin like a dog, and run about through the city.

7 Behold, they speak with their mouth, and swords are in their lips: for who doth hear?

8 But thou, O LORD, shalt have them in derision: and thou shalt laugh all the heathen to scorn.

9 My strength will I ascribe unto thee: for thou art the God of my refuge.

10 God showeth me his goodness plenteously:

234 THE CHURCH—HOLY MATRIMONY.

5 Until the trump of God be heard,
Until the ancient graves be stirred,
And with the great commanding word,
The Lord shall come.

6 O blessèd hope! with this elate,
Let not our hearts be desolate,
But strong in faith, in patience wait,
Until He come!

237 Holy Matrimony. D. C. M.

LORD, Who at Cana's wedding feast
Didst as a guest appear,
Thou dearer far than earthly guest
Vouchsafe Thy presence here;
For holy Thou indeed dost prove
The marriage vow to be,
Proclaiming it a type of love
Between the Church and Thee.

2 The holiest vow that man can make,
The golden thread in life,

HOLY, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty!
Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee:
Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty!
God in Three Persons, blessèd Trinity!

2 Holy, Holy, Holy! All the saints adore Thee,
Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea;
Cherubim and seraphim falling down before Thee,
Which wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.

Onward, Christians, onward go:
Fight the fight, maintain the strife,
Strengthened with the Bread of life.

March in heavenly armor clad:
Fight, nor think the battle long,
Soon shall victory tune your song.

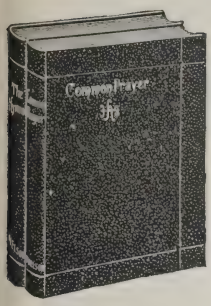
The Church Standard, February 20, 1897, says:



". . . We have never been able to understand why our best Prayer Books should nearly all be of English manufacture. That the best editions of American Prayer Books should be imported from abroad seems to be as absurd as it is humiliating. Consequently, we are pleased to have before us these four editions of the Book of Common Prayer, which, we may safely say, are equal to the best of foreign manufacture. Printed as they are on extremely thin but opaque paper, they are of convenient size, and the clear typography is pleasing to the eye. . . . For these Prayer Books and the Hymnals of like size the De Vinne Press deserves high credit, and we are glad that the Messrs. Nelson have succeeded in their endeavor to produce four editions of the American Prayer Book and Hymnal, which are as good as the best of the imported editions."

THANKSGIVINGS. 45

For Rain.

O GOD, our heavenly Father, who by thy gracious providence dost cause the former and the latter rain to descend upon the earth, that it may bring forth fruit for the use of man; We give thee humble thanks that it hath pleased thee, in our great necessity, to send us at the last a joyful rain upon thine inheritance, and to refresh it when it was dry, to the great comfort of us thy unworthy servants, and to the glory of thy holy Name; through thy mercies in Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

HOLY, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty!
Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee:
Holy, Holy, Holy! merciful and mighty!
God in Three Persons, blessèd Trinity!

2 Holy, Holy, Holy! All the saints adore Thee,
Casting down their golden crowns around the glassy sea;
Cherubim and seraphim falling down before Thee,
Which wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.

IN presenting a new line of Teachers' Bibles the publishers desire to call the attention of the trade to the following important features. The Helps are not old material half corrected, but are entirely new, written by thirty-eight contributors who are recognized as leading scholars in America and Great Britain. They give a clear, fresh, full, and independent statement of the various subjects, and make the Bible a new book. The 350 illustrations are mostly from recent photographs, which not only please the eye, but truly illustrate Bible lands.

The Concordance is most complete, combining Subject Index, Scripture Proper Names, and Concordance under one heading, as well as other instructive matter, in alphabetical order, which in other Teachers' Bibles is usually found scattered through the Helps in the form of dry and uninteresting tables. There are also twelve new maps, and a new index to Bible Atlas. This new series is pronounced by the press and eminent scholars to be THE BEST AND MOST COMPLETE TEACHERS' BIBLE YET PUBLISHED.

THE A. L. O. E. THIRTY-FIVE VOLUME SUNDAY SCHOOL LIBRARY.

12mo. Cloth Extra. In neat wooden case, $20.00.*

"The death of the lady who has been so long known to the world as 'A. L. O. E.' will snap, as it were, a link with the past to thousands of men and women over the whole English-speaking world. . . . In looking through a list of her books, one is struck by the enormous popularity which some of them have enjoyed, and by the genuine literary beauty which many of them display. 'Precepts in Practice,' 'Idols in the Heart,' 'The Young Pilgrim,'—these titles serve to indicate the character of much of her work, although, perhaps, 'Claudia' and 'The Lady of Provence' were even more successful as good stories."—The Illustrated London News.

Each year greater stress is being laid upon the importance of interesting children in the common things around them. In response to the growing demand for very simple books on Botany, we have issued a series of five dainty little volumes of Rambles after Wild Flowers. They are intended to awaken in their readers a love for and an interest in common wild flowers.

"In these bright and pleasant pages the children are taken by the hand by 'Uncle Matt'—a character cheerily and sympathetically impersonated by Dr. Cooke—and led on various rambles around the neighborhood of the home or holiday centre, however it may be imagined, in search of wild flowers. These when found are made a note of, with picture and in merry chat; and so, besides getting a good time generally, the young people pick up a great deal of elementary knowledge of botany."—School Board Chronicle.

Though the incidents of that hapless adventure have often been woven into fiction, that has never been more successfully done than in the present tale. From the first chapter, the reader's interest is seized and held firmly by the pictures it contains of life in the villages of Somersetshire.

While the pictures of camp and battlefield appeal to boyish readers, the story of the love of Viscount Vere and his bride, and of the devotion of her spirited friend Mistress Mary Bridges, cannot fail to charm girls. The minor characters, such as the hateful Rev. Nicholas Blewer and the garrulous Mother Whale, are life-like and historically true.

Arriving at the house of her father, who is a coalmaster in the north of England, she suddenly finds herself "sprung upon" a family of three brothers and five sisters, who were till then utterly ignorant of her existence.

An Account of Palmyra and Zenobia, with Travels and Adventures in Bashan and the Desert. With numerous full-page illustrations, small cuts, maps, and a copious index. 8vo, pp. 394. Extra cloth, gilt top, bevelled edges $2.50*

"Palmyra is chiefly known for its ruins and its traditions of Zenobia's illustrious reign. To both of these Dr. Wright does more justice than is commonly expected from travellers' tales. He has occupied himself with original research and the study of inscriptions, so that his narrative has a very different style from that of the vapid, second-hand and tenth-rate literature of the majority of unprofessional travellers. Much entertainment as well as much information may be found in this modest volume."—New York Times.

"Thos. Nelson & Sons have set a pace that will test American authors and publishers to their utmost. There is not to be found for the money in any department of literature such beautiful books as these, from the illustrative standpoint at least. Little people do like colors, and they have grown beyond their school days before they cease to find a peculiar claim in an exquisite picture where effect is heightened by the artistic touch of color. It should not be understood that this exceptional attraction is the only merit of this series, which abounds in modern ideas, skilfully applied. The selections are interesting to children, are well guarded, are pleasingly varied, and are provided with many aids to the child and suggestions to the teacher."—Journal of Education.

Class Teaching of Writing from the blackboard, combined with copying of headlines by the pupils, has long been desired.

In the present systems of writing this has been impossible. Where scholars have commenced copy books at different times, or have had an unequal number of attendances, they are, under the present systems, writing on different pages, and therefore copying different headlines. In the Royal Copy Book is solved the problem of simultaneous instruction in writing, and class teaching of writing is now made easy for all schools.

By using the Royal Copy Books, the whole class can always copy the same headline at the same time. This great advantage has been attained by a novel arrangement—the headlines being cut away from the body of the copy book, but firmly stitched in the same cover. The headline above each page can thus be changed as often as is desired, and in this way the copying by the scholars of their own writing instead of the headlines will be completely obviated.

The Star Copy Books. The great success of the Royal Copy Books (with cut headlines) proves that they have fulfilled their aim of enabling teachers to combine the simultaneous class-teaching of writing with the use of engraved headlines in the style of penmanship best suited for clerks in the Civil Service and in Business Offices. In response to requests from teachers who have not time for simultaneous class-teaching of writing, but who wish to introduce the style of penmanship of the Royal Copy Books, the publishers are now issuing the Star Copy Books with two headlines on each page. Ten books in the series. Per dozen.....$1.00*

2. Long Letters and Short Words.
3. Texts—Capitals, Words and Sentences.

10. Commercial Forms, Letters and Correspondence.

The Upright Copy Books. Nine books in the series. Per dozen.....$1.00*

The series is just issued, and will be found to meet all the requirements of a truly vertical style of penmanship. Care has been taken to obtain the maximum fluency, simplicity, and legibility, and no pains have been spared by which the neatness or the workmanship of these books could be improved.

With cut-away headlines for simultaneous instruction.

"'The Upright' has the copy cut from the page so that any copy can be used for any page. This meets all classes and conditions of conservatives and cranks, who can have a whole page given to one copy, or they can have a different copy on every line. 'The Royal Copy Books' (nineteen parts) is much like the 'Upright,' but simply magnifies the grading by doubling the number of books in the series."—Journal of Education.

NOTE

On receipt of a post card, New Amsterdam Book Company will be pleased to furnish the name of the local bookseller, at whose store the books detailed in this catalogue may be inspected. Or, on receipt of the price, by check, money order, or stamps, the books will be sent, carriage free. The usual courtesies are extended to libraries, educators, and clergymen.

On request they will also send, post free, to any address, catalogues and prospectuses of their various publications.

SOME SUGGESTIONS TO AUTHORS

Interviews should if possible be arranged by appointment.

MSS. should be sent written on one side of the paper only, folded flat—not rolled—with the number of words stated that each MSS. contains, and each page numbered.

A short syllabus of plot or chief incidents should always accompany a MS., to which should be attached the full name and address of the author.

The New Amsterdam Book Company will not, under any circumstances, be responsible for MSS. lost in transit to or from authors, or by fire or other accident, although every care will be taken by the publishers to avoid such loss. Authors are requested, when submitting MSS. by post, to register them.

Authors are advised to submit MSS. type-written when practicable.

Biography

Moltke's Letters to His Wife

The only Complete Edition published in any language. With an Introduction by SIDNEY WHITMAN, author of "Imperial Germany." Portraits of Moltke and his wife never before published. An Account of Countess von Moltke's Family, supplied by the Family. And a genealogical tree, in fac-simile of the Field-Marshal's handwriting. Two volumes. Demy 8vo, cloth, $10.00; ¾ calf, $20.00; ¾ levant, $22.50.

Beginning in 1841, the year before his marriage, these letters extend to within a short time of his death. Travels on the Continent, three visits to England and one to Russia, military manoeuvres, and three campaigns are covered by this period, during which Captain Von Moltke, known only as the author of the "Letters from the East," grew into the greatest director of war since Napoleon. These most interesting volumes contain the record of a life singularly pure and noble, unspoiled by dazzling successes.—The Times (London).

This book will be chiefly valued on account of the insight it affords into the real disposition of Moltke. Indeed, it will surprise many, for it shows that the eminent soldier was very different from what he was ordinarily conceived to be. He is supposed to have been dry and stern, reticent, almost devoid of human sympathies, and little better than a strategical machine. As a matter of fact, such an estimate is somewhat of a caricature. To the public and strangers Moltke was cold and silent, but to his family and friends he was affectionate, open, and full of kindly forethought. . . As he was a keen and minute observer, his opinion of the people, countries, and sights which in the course of his life he saw, is of interest and value.—The Athenaeum (London).

Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson

An Historical Biography based on letters and other documents in the Morrison collection. By JOHN CORDY JEAFFRESON, author of "The Real Lord Byron," etc. New and Revised Edition, containing additional facts, letters, and other material. Large crown 8vo, cloth, $2.25; ¾ calf, $5.00; ¾ levant, $6.50.

Women Novelists of Queen Victoria's Reign

A Book of Appreciations. By MRS. OLIPHANT, MRS. LYNN LINTON, MRS. ALEXANDER, MRS. MACQUOID, MRS. PARR, MRS. MARSHALL, CHARLOTTE M. YONGE, ADELINE SERGEANT, AND EDNA LYALL. Square 4to, cloth, $3.50.

Contents: The Sisters Bronte, George Eliot, Mrs. Gaskell, Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. Archer Clive, Mrs. Henry Wood, Lady Georgiana Fullerton, Mrs. Stretton, Anne Manning, Dinah Mulock (Mrs. Craik), Julia Kavanagh, Amelia Blandford Edwards, Mrs Norton, "A. L. O. E." (Miss Tucker), and Mrs. Ewing.

Life of Percy Bysshe Shelley

By PROF. EDWARD DOWDEN, author of "Studies in Literature," "Skakspere: His Mind and Art," etc. New and cheaper edition. With Portrait. One vol., post 8vo, $4.50; ¾ calf, $9.00; ¾ levant, $10.00.

This, the standard Life of Shelley, is now presented in a form convenient to the individual student. It has been revised by the author, and contains an exhaustive index.

The Crimean Diary of the Late General Sir Charles A. Windham, K.C.B.

With an Introduction by SIR W. H. RUSSELL. Edited by MAJOR HUGH PEARSE. With an added chapter on the Defence of Cawnpore, by LIEUT-COL. JOHN ADYE, C. B. Demy 8vo, $3.00.

This interesting diary, supported and amplified by a number of intimate letters, will be found to reveal much that has hitherto been hidden concerning the mismanagement of the Crimean campaign.

From "The Bells" to "King Arthur"

By CLEMENT SCOTT. Fully illustrated, with portraits of Mr. Irving in character, scenes from several plays, and copies of the play-bills. Demy 8vo, $3.50.

From the memorable, never-to-be-forgotten evening when Irving startled all London with his Mathias, in "The Bells," down to his latest play, "King Arthur." A critical record of the first-night productions at the Lyceum Theatre, London. Not the least interesting feature of this book is the superb frontispiece—a photograph of Mr. Irving, with autograph in fac-simile.

Reminiscences of a Yorkshire Naturalist

By the late WILLIAM CRAWFORD WILLIAMSON, LL.D., F.R.S., Professor of Botany in Owens College, Manchester. Edited by his Wife. Crown 8vo. Cloth, gilt top, $2.25 net.

This autobiography gives us an epitome of the advance of scientific thought during the present century, with the added charm and freshness of a personal history of the almost ideal scientific career of a genuine naturalist.—Nature (London).

Anna Kingsford

Her Life, Letters, Diary, and Work. By her Collaborator, EDWARD MAITLAND. Illustrated with Portraits, Views, and Fac-similes. Two volumes. Demy 8vo, 896 pp. Cloth, $15.00 net. Second Edition. (Scarce).

Reviewed as "The Book of the Month" in Mr. Stead's Review of Reviews. The notice occupies ten pages of the Review, and is entitled "Mr. Maitland's Life of Anna Kingsford, Apostle and Avenger." Mr. Stead concludes as follows: "Here I must conclude my notice of one of the weirdest and most bewildering books that I have read for many a long day."

My Reminiscences

By LORD RONALD GOWER. With Etched Portrait. New Edition. Post 8vo, $2.50.

Rupert of the Rhine

A Biographical Sketch of the Life of Prince Rupert, by LORD RONALD GOWER. With three Portraits in photogravure. Crown 8vo, buckram, $1.75.

Major General, the Earl of Stirling

An Essay in Biography by LUDWIG SCHUMACHER. Edition limited to 150 copies. Cloth, $1.00.

A book so pretty that it might be welcomed, even if it were not as carefully done as it is.—Book Buyer, (New York.)

Four Generations of a Literary Family

By W. CAREW HAZLITT. With photogravure portraits, facsimiles, &c. 2 vols., Demy 8vo. (Scarce.)

These volumes deal with the Hazlitts in England, Ireland, and America, and give a picture of Ireland in 1780 and of America in 1783-7. They contain a store of theatrical anecdotes, sketches of celebrated book collectors, an account of old Brompton, and a good deal of matter relating to auction rooms and sales by auction. The history of the origin of "Our Club," founded by Douglas Jerrold, is also given.

Note.—This work was suppressed in England, the author having been threatened with libel suits by the relatives of many persons mentioned in the text. A limited American edition was secured by the New Amsterdam Book Company, and the work now ranks among scarce books.

Gordon in China and the Soudan

By E. EGMONT HOKE. Demy 8vo, cloth, $2.25.

This work is practically a reprint of "The Story of Chinese Gordon," which ran through twelve editions within eighteen months of its appearance. The book has been out of print for a considerable time, but in view of recent events, it is now greatly in demand. To meet that demand, it has been decided to re-issue it with such minor changes as were necessary.

Bibliography

A Bibliography of Gilbert White of Selborne

By EDWARD A. MARTIN, F.G.S., author of "Amidst Nature's Realms," "The Story of a Piece of Coal," Etc. $1.50.

Gilbert White's remarkable book, "The Natural History of Selborne," has perhaps been published in a greater number of editions than any other book of the kind in the world. The work mentioned above gives a very interesting account of both the man and his book, and as an essay in bibliography, ranks with the very best works of its class.

Fiction

The Devil-Tree of El Dorado

By FRANK AUBREY. With Illustrations by LEIGH ELLIS AND FRED HYLAND. Thick 12mo, cloth, stamped in fire bronze and gold, $1.50.

The book should find as many readers as "King Solomon's Mines."—New York Sun. (⅔ column review.)

We have often wondered why the famous legend of El Dorado had never found its way into romance. Though the novel of adventure is once more in vogue, and although the cry is general that all possible themes have long ago been exhausted,this still was left untouched; the story tellers seemed to have thought the quest as hopeless as the adventurers found it. The omission has now been made good; the hidden city has been found.—Macmillan's Magazine, London.—(Extract from a thirteen-page review.)

Is an exceptionally fascinating book. * * * We know well that the scenes and characters are all ideal—nay, we feel that some are utterly impossible—but none the less they enthrall us.—New York Herald. (¾-column review.)

The book is recommended to the perusal of all.—Boston Times.

Here we have a book that is deserving of success.—Waverley Magazine, (Boston.)

This is one of the best books of adventure that has appeared in the last year or so. —Hartford Post.

The first edition in England was sold in advance of publication! The second did not last a week!

Mr. Paul's Translation of Huysmans' last great novel.

En Route

By J. K. HUYSMANS. Translated, with a prefatory note, by C. KEGAN PAUL. Second edition. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

We are inclined to think it not only the greatest novel of the day, but one of the most important books of our quarter of the century.—The Bookman (extract from five-page review).

The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, in a letter to the translator, says: "It places the claim of the 'Route' through mysticism higher, I think, than any other book I have read; and by this fact alone it imposes modesty and reserve upon all critics from outside and from a distance."

Opals From a Mexican Mine

By GEORGE DE VALLIÈRE. 12mo, cloth, richly bound, $1.25.

Are indeed literary gems. * * * We are glad to have found these Mexican opals; they are to us gems of value and we thank the author.—Boston Times.

Now and then a tale flames like a field of poppies in windless sunshine—such, for instance, as these Mexican tales which have just appeared bearing an unfamiliar name.—The Bookman, New York.

In them all, no worse local solecism than the dropping of a few accents. The like hardly happens twice in a decade. * * * Are unmistakably interesting.—Critic, (New York.)

The Lure of Fame

By CLIVE HOLLAND, author of "My Japanese Wife," etc., etc. With a drawing and decoration by GEORGE WHARTON EDWARDS. Large 16mo, square, handsomely embossed cover, $1.00; paper, 50c.

Charles Dexter Allen writes as follows in the Hartford Post: "Before one gets to the story itself, he must stop and admire the handsome setting the book has received. Bound in dark blue, with a bold cover design in gold, it has an especially designed title page by George Wharton Edwards, and an excellent frontispiece by the same artist. Its title, 'The Lure of Fame,' will suggest something of the thread of the story, but one is not thereby prepared for so tender and sympathetic a picture as those pages reveal, or so close an analysis of human feelings and experiences."

Nephelé

A Novel. By FRANCIS WILLIAM BOURDILLON. 12mo, artistically bound, $1.00.

We urge so rare a treat as its pages impart on the attention of our readers.—The Bookman (New York).

At the very first sentence the reader realizes that he is breathing a rarer air than usually emanates from the printed page, and at the very last sentence he realizes how he has kept on the heights. * * * Whatever the cause, the achievement is the sort that revives one's faith in that quality which, for want of a better word, we know as inspiration.—New York Sun.

The story is so delightful that to attempt to describe it seems to indicate a lack of appreciation. It must be read to be understood.—Hartford Post.

Pacific Tales

By LOUIS BECKE, author of "By Reef and Palm," etc. With frontispiece photogravure Portrait of the Author and several illustrations. Crown 8vo, green cloth, gilt top, $1.50.

The volume consists of the following: An Island Memory, The South Sea Savant, In the Old Beach-Combing Days, Miss Malleson's Rival, Prescott of Naura, Chester's "Cross," Hollis's Debt: a tale of the Northwest Pacific, The Arm of Luno Capál, In a Samoan Village, the "Black-Birdes," In the Evening, The Great Crushing at Mount Sugar-Bag: a Queensland Mining Tale, The Shadows of the Dead, "For we were Friends Always," Nikòa, The Strange White Woman of Mâduro, The Obstinacy of Mrs. Tatton, The Treasure of Don Bruno.

Animal Episodes and Studies in Sensation

By G. H. POWELL. 8vo, cloth, $1.50 net.

The reader, if he be in sorrow, or even in suspense, is taken out of himself and knows nothing of what is going on save what the author tells him—James Payn, in "Illustrated London News."

Thrilling to the point of intensity—Westminster Gazette.

Breathlessly interesting—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Stable for Nightmares

Or, Wierd Tales. By J. SHERIDAN LE FANU, author of "Uncle Silas," "House by the Churchyard," etc.; SIR CHARLES YOUNG, Bart., and others. Bound in brimstone yellow cloth, and appropriately illustrated, 75 cents.

The Commercial Advertiser, New York, under the title of "A Revel in Spookdom," writes in part as follows: "What is there better for a real, clammy, irresponsible thrill than a volume of ghost stories? You open the book anywhere and the breath of chilly, graveyard air that comes from the pages prepares you at once for the refreshing horrors you are about to enjoy. At least that was my experience when I opened 'A Stabl for Nightmares,' by J. Sheridan Le Fanu. The cover is of the hue of cold 'Welsh rabbit,' suggestive of awful indigestion and gaunt nightmares that serve to make any ghost stories probable. The tales are of various complexions, but all imbued with the 'pobbiness' of new-made corpses that it so useful an element in making effective preternatural narratives . . . Everyone of the eleven stories is a splendid example of weirdness. . . . . If you want ghost stories fresh from the charnel house, buy this book for 75 cents and you will find it a profitable investment."

The XIth Commandment

By HALLIWELL SUTCLIFFE. Handsomely bound in cloth, gilt top, $1.25.

Full of deep thought, tempered with a bright appreciation of the ridiculous and invested with delicate sarcasm, is the new novel of Halliwell Sutcliffe, called "The XIth Commandment." Mr. Sutcliffe's theme is the diplomatic attitude of a north-country vicar in the Church of England, who seeks to maintain an equilibrium in his ministrations to the rich and poor in his parish, while favoring the rich. In striking contrast to this attitude, the work of a young curate, sincere, broadminded and convincing, is refreshingly shown.—Buffalo Express.

It is full of stress and emphasis, vibrant and thrilling in places, and, for a novel of its character, it holds the interest of the reader to a surprising degree.—Commercial Advertiser, (New York.)

As the story progresses one's interest grows continually and the book may be called not merely readable, but genuinely interesting.—Hartford Post.

Seven Frozen Sailors

The idea is unique, and the seven stories, each by a different author, form an interesting mosaic of imaginative literature. . . . The reading public seems to crave something new, and here is a volume, not cumbersome, but of modest size, that will, no doubt, prove attractive.—Every Saturday, (Elgin, Ill.)

The old saying, "too many cooks spoil the broth," does not hold true in this instance, for the little book is really enjoyable.—Boston Transcript.

The Copsford Mystery

(Eighth edition, completing seventeenth thousand). By W. CLARK RUSSELL, author of "An Ocean Free Lance," "The Wreck of the Grosvenor," etc. Handsomely illustrated by A. BURNHAM SHUTE, and others. Cloth, $1.25; paper, 50 cents.

"The Copsford Mystery; or, Is He the Man?" is by W. Clark Russell, whose name at once suggests rolling billows and dashing spray. But this is not a sea tale and is the only story not of the sea that he has written. Save in the first chapter, when we are introduced to a girl who is in the habit of rowing, off Broadstairs, and who gets carried out to sea by the tide, and is rescued by a dark-browed, sunburnt, but handsome man, there is nothing of the sea in it. The construction of the story is more like Doyle than Russell, but it resembles the latter's sea stories in its careful attention to detail. There is also careful delineation of character. In an introduction is an interesting sketch of Russell and his writings, and the book has full page illustrations by A. Burnham Shute and others.

The author has taken pains to represent truthfully and effectively the life and times of Mary, Queen of Scots, the Court intrigues of the period, the plots and counterplots of the nobles. On his death he desired, by his will, that the book should be published. At that time the executor considered too many personal feelings would be wronged by the writer's stringent criticisms, but in the interval nearly all those who were responsible for the Crimean disasters have passed away, and now the publication may serve as a salutary record of the mismanagement that has too frequently attended military expeditions.

By ALFRED RUSSELL WALLACE, D.C.L., LL.D., F.R.S. New and revised edition, with chapters on Phantasms and Apparitions. Crown 8vo, cloth, $2.25 net.

The Tarot of the Bohemians

The most ancient book in the world. For the exclusive use of Initiates. By PAPUS. Translated by A. P. MORTON. With numerous illustrations. The absolute key to Occult Science. Crown 8vo, $2.25 net.

Ostensibly, the "Tarot" is a method of divination comprised in seventy-eight symbols, from which our modern cards have descended. The fact of its existence seems to have been first discovered by a French archeologist at the close of the eighteenth century, and he connected its figures with primitive Egyptian symbolism. The subject was further developed by Eliphas Levi, who regarded it as the first book of humanity, and thought that all problems of science, philosophy, and religion could be solved by means of its combinations.

The Imitation of S'Ankara

Being a collection of several Texts bearing on the Advaita. By MANILAL N. DVIVIDI. Crown 8vo, $2.25 net.

This is a production of the Bombay Press. The Oriental texts in question number 658, and have been derived from the Upanishads, the Institutes of Manu, the Mahabharata, and other sacred writings, the Sanskrit originals being also given. Seeing that for the most part they were in existence before the birth of S'ankara, they must be regarded as the spirit which guided that teacher, and are thus not his imitation, but that which he himself followed.

Devil-Worship in France

Or, The Question of Lucifer. A record of things seen and heard in the Secret Societies, according to the evidence of Initiates. By A. E. WAITE. Crown 8vo, $2 25 net.

An exhaustive examination of all the evidence fabricated in France concerning the actual existence of a religion of Lucifer. In addition to its occult interest, it constitutes a most remarkable contribution to the literature of Freemasonry, as that fraternity is the subject of special accusation in connection with devil-worship by a host of French writers, some of whom are high-grade Masons. This, Mr. Waite's latest work, has received marked recognition from the general press.

The Mysteries of Magic

A Digest of the Writings of Éliphas Lévi. With Biographical and Critical Essay by A. E. WAITE. Second and Revised Edition. Crown 8vo, $3.00 net.

This work fulfils a purpose quite distinct from that of "Transcendental Magic," inasmuch as it is not simply translation, but presents in an abridged and digested form the entire writings of Eliphas Levi which had appeared up to the time of its publication. Mr. Waite's extended summary has been generally appreciated, and the large impression issued in 1886 being exhausted, this revised and enlarged edition, following a new and improved plan, has been recently issued.

Lives of Alchemystical Philosophers

Based on materials collected in 1815 and supplemented by recent researches. By A. E. WAITE. Demy 8vo, $3.00 net.

Alchemical, like Kabbalistic, literature is far too technical and too established in exegetical difficulties for ordinary readers to find much satisfaction in its perusal. But the lives of the seekers after the Magnum Opus, the Quintessence, and the Universal Medicine are in many cases romantic records which will interest those who care little comparatively for the pursuit which engrossed them. The biography of Cagliostro related in this volume has much the same adventurous element as Gil Blas or Guzman d'Alfarache. There is also a large bibliography, and an introduction dealing with the modern interpretations of alchemical symbolism. Persons who wish to know the evidence for transmutation in the past as a fact of physical science will be astonished at its extent and convincing character.

The Turba Philosophorum

Translated into English, with the variations of the Shorter Recension, explanations of obscure terms, and parallels from the Byzantine Alchemists. By A. E. WAITE. Crown 8vo, $2.50 net.

The "Turba Philosophorum" is the most ancient Latin treatise on Alchemy and the Great Work; it is the subject of continual reference by all later adepts, ranking second only to the writings of Hermes Trismegistus, and recognized as a final authority in the "practice of the philosophers." While it has been the subject of innumerable commentaries, and of the most pious veneration on the part of Hermetic students, this curious fountain-head of alchemical literature in the West has never been previously translated.

Magical Writings of Thomas Vaughan

Real History of the Rosicrucians

By A. E. WAITE. With illustrations. Crown 8vo, $2.50 net.

The Occult Sciences

By A. E. WAITE. Crown 8vo, $2.25 net.

Psychic Philosophy as the Foundation of a Religion of Natural Law

By V. C. DESERTIS. With Introduction by ALFRED RUSSELL WALLACE, D.C.L., LL.D., F.R.S. Crown 8vo, $2.25 net.

Though appearing under a name previously unknown in psychological literature, this work has been welcomed as perhaps the best existing exposition of the philosophy of Spiritualism. As Dr. Wallace explains in his preface, it founds a philosophy of the universe and of human nature on the facts of physical research, the basis of which philosophy is necessarily the familiar proposition that faith must be justified by knowledge.

The Great Secret, and its Unfoldment in Occultism

A record of Forty Years' Experience in the Modern Mystery. By A CHURCH OF ENGLAND CLERGYMAN. Crown 8vo, $2.25 net.

The "modern mystery" is, of course, Spiritualism, and perhaps this crisp and eminently readable narrative has a little suffered by some inexactitude in its title. The author is well known not only in the sphere of liberal theology, but in that of letters, and as his identity is in no way concealed by the narrative for those who have any acquaintance with the movement, it is to be regretted that his name has been suppressed.

The Rationale of Mesmerism

A Treatise on the Occult Laws of Nature governing Mesmeric Phenomena. By A. P. SINNETT. Second edition. $1.00 net.

In addition to the sources of occult knowledge with which Mr. Sinnett claims to be connected, he has had considerable experience as a practical mesmerist, and is therefore entitled to speak upon his subject with personal as well as derived authority.

The Cloud on the Sanctuary

Translated by MADAME ISABEL DE STEIGER. With a Preface by J. W. BRODIE-INNES. Crown 8vo, $1.50 net.

The work of the great German Mystic, Eckartshausen, embodying perhaps the most profound instruction ever offered concerning the esoteric mysteries of Christianity, this treatise, prized by a select few in its original tongue, and familiar also to others in its French translation, is here given for the first time in an English version, with some annotations by the translator, a lady well known in occult circles, and a transcendentalist, as well as an artist.

The Transcendental Universe

Six Lectures on Occult Science, Theosophy, and the Catholic Faith. Second edition. By C. G. HARRISON. Crown 8vo, $1.00 net.

Mr. Harrison regards Transcendentalism, and especially its Theosophic development, from the standpoint of esoteric Christianity, and in a slight degree he connects with the school of Eckartshausen. His impeachment of Madame Blavatsky, if not entirely new, embodies many original elements, and has attracted some attention. The little work is exceedingly clear and readable.

A Handbook of Palmistry after the Ancient Methods

Sixth (Revised) Edition. By ROSA BAUGHAN. With five plates. Demy 8vo, paper, 50 cents net.

The most popular introduction to the study of the Hand ever published in England. It has been in circulation for ten years, and is still always in demand. The present revised edition supersedes all others, and those who have earlier impressions will do well to consult this.

Palmistry and its Practical Uses

By LOUISE COTTON. With twelve plates. Second edition. Crown 8vo, 90 cents net.

Transcendental Magic; Its Doctrine and Ritual

By ELIPHAS LEVI. Now for the first time translated into English by A. E. WAITE. With all the Original Illustrations, a Biographical Preface, copious Index, and Portrait of the French Magus. Demy 8vo, $6.00 net.

An unabridged and faithful rendering of Eliphas Levi's most important work, which in the original is so well known by students as scarcely to need description. The present translation will, no doubt, become a textbook for English readers. Eliphas Levi may be, to some extent, regarded as the founder of modern occultism, and he is certainly the most brilliant and accomplished of all the expositors of transcendental science and philosophy. The "Dogme et Rituel de la Haute Magie" marks an epoch in esoteric literature, and it is here made accessible to all.

Light on the Path: Karma: Green Leaves

A Treatise written for the personal use of those who are ignorant of the Eastern Wisdom. By MABEL COLLINS. Imperial 32mo, 75 cents net.

A series of aphorisms or maxims partly referable to Oriental Scriptures, this little work has been a Golden Rule among Theosophists, and not the less popular because of the unhappy controversy of which it subsequently became the centre.

Poetry

The Chauropanchasika

An Eastern Poem in English. By SIR EDWIN ARNOLD, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., author of "The Light of Asia," etc. Oblong 8vo, $4.00.

In exact fac-simile of the distinguished author's own manuscript. When Sir Edwin went, last February, to the Canary Islands, he took with him the text of a very old Sanskrit love poem, and occupied his mornings before breakfast in the beautiful gardens of Orotavo, by transcribing and translating that ancient composition. He did this, not in the usually careless manner of modern manuscripts, but like a medieval scribe, fairly, neatly, and heedfully, interspersing the unblotted pages with free and fanciful illuminations. A veritable edition de luxe.

CHARLES DEXTER ALLEN writes as follows in the Hartford Post:

"Before one gets to the story itself, he must stop and admire the handsome setting the book has received. Bound in dark blue, with a bold cover design in gold, it has an especially designed title page by George Wharton Edwards, and an excellent frontispiece by the same artist. Its title, 'The Lure of Fame,' will suggest something of the thread of the story, but one is not thereby prepared for so tender and sympathetic a picture as those pages reveal, or so close an analysis of human feelings and experiences."

PRIVATE EDITIONS

The New Amsterdam Press is unusually well equipped for the manufacture of high class private editions in all departments of literature. The service rendered includes critical examination of MSS., furnishing of designs, illustrations and their engravure, composition, electrotyping, presswork and binding. All the technical details of book making are under the supervision of an expert.

While a small pamphlet receives the same attention that a work in several volumes would merit, still it must be understood that the New Amsterdam Press does not undertake what might be termed "cheap" work. Everything is done in the best manner only, at fair market prices. We especially invite authors of scientific and historical literature to permit us to undertake the manufacture of their books, guaranteeing them careful proof-reading, the most important detail in book making.

"'Passing Though the Ordeal' is a story of sin and reformation. There is the prodigal son, the hypocritical brother, the loving mother, the sunlight of hope and repentance. A pretty girl gives zest to the tale, and love finally triumphs."—Columbia Herald, Mo.

PALLISER'S BOOKS OF PLANS.

PALLISER'S AMERICAN ARCHITECTURE, or, Every Man a Complete Builder.—The latest and best publication on modern artistic dwellings and other buildings of low cost. This book contains 104 pages, 11 x 14 inches in size, and consists of large 9 x 12 plate pages giving plans, elevations, perspective views, descriptions, owners' names, actual cost of construction, no guess work, and instructions HOW TO BUILD 70 cottages, villas, double houses, brick block houses, suitable for city suburbs, town and country, houses for the farm and workingmen's homes for all sections of the country, and costing from $300 to $4,500; also barns, stables, schoolhouse, town hall, churches, and other public buildings, together with specifications, form of contract, etc., etc., and a large amount of information on the erection of buildings, selection of site, employment of architects, etc., etc.

IT IS THE MOST PRACTICAL WORK EVER ISSUED.

The plans shown have been built from and many of them duplicated many times over. All are practical, the creation of a well-known firm of successful architects, and are alike valuable to builders, and any one who has in view the erection of a house. The plans are susceptible of slight changes that will adapt them to any taste.

The carpenter remote from a city needs just such a book to refer to or to exhibit to his customer, so that the latter can give his orders in an intelligible manner. The much-desired economy in these structures is not, however, obtained at the expense of beauty—every one of the designs, even the very cheapest, is pleasing to the eye. Following the ideas laid down, the builder is sure to obtain a pretty result. Another result aimed at by the authors is the convenience of internal arrangements. Many a good house has been spoiled by having the needed closet room omitted. All this has been carefully studied by the practical and experienced gentlemen whose names are on the book, and the owner or working builder who selects a design from this work will be sure to secure all the elegance, convenience, and economy possible in the erection of a house.

If you ever intend to build get this book and study it before you commence. This should be your first step towards building a house, so as to ascertain what kind of a house you want and find out how much it is going to cost before going ahead.

The value of this work to builders cannot be estimated, as it contains designs for just such houses as they are called on to build every day in the week. This book of 104 pages, as described above, will be sent by mail, postpaid, to any address on receipt of price. Price, heavy paper cover, $1; handsomely bound in cloth, $2.

PALLISER'S MODEL DWELLINGS.—When you build be wise in time and not when it is too late, after paying dearly for experience. Get this new book of designs. None of them ever before published. Don't buy a book five years old.

This is a complete work on building by Palliser, Palliser & Co., the best known architects in the United States, and eminent designers and writers on common sense, practical and convenient dwelling houses for industrial Americans, homes for co-operative builders, investors and everybody desiring to build, own or live in model homes of low and medium cost.

This new book is 11 x 14 inches in size, and contains large illustrated plans and views of the above house and 145 others of every kind, description and style dwellings, ranging in cost of construction and completion from $400 to $6,000, also a model city house for 24 families, costing $15,000, giving with each full descriptions, complete dimensions and sizes of rooms, etc., the actual proven guaranteed cost, places where erected, many of the most popular built several times, with changes, in different localities, together with names of owners, names and addresses of builders, which does away with ridiculous estimating or rather guessing of the cost to build.

The descriptive letter-press and reading matter throughout this book, giving very valuable information and practical suggestions on every question that can arise in building, would alone fill an ordinary book of 450 pages. Also, specifications and form of building contract.

With this book in your possession you will find it is a pleasure to build.

Free consultation given to purchasers building and very low prices for all architects' complete services connected therewith. This elegant work, which contains 128 pages, is far superior to the $15 portfolios and premium books on the market (in fact, there is nothing that can compare with it at any price), will be sent to any address, in paper cover, by mail, postpaid, on receipt of only $1.00, or bound in cloth on receipt of $2.00.

They are given at a very large scale, none being smaller than ¾ inch to foot, and many larger and up to half full size; in fact, they are so plain that every mechanic and apprentice can readily understand them. That they are practical designs is evident, all the drawings having been built from, many of them duplicated several times over, and the thousands of letters received from mechanics the past two years have convinced the authors that this is the work they need. "Palliser's Useful Details" are published for the benefit of the builder, mechanic, and all people interested in the building arts. WHAT TO EAT AND HOW TO COOK IT, with Rules for Preserving, Canning and Drying Fruits and Vegetables, by author of "The Science of a New Life," John Cowan, M.D. There are scores of Cook-Books in the market, but it is a question if the ingredients and the mixtures and combinations they offer as "recipes" do not, when used as food, result in physical suffering, rather than in health and vigor.

This book differs from that class of Cook-Books in that it aims to give, in a plain and understandable way, the kind of food that it is best to eat in order to regain and sustain health and strength, and a mode of cooking it that will make it at once palatable, nutritious and wholesome.

☞If you wish to avoid sickness and live healthfully, by eating food cooked and prepared in a simple and inviting manner, send for this book. Price, paper cover, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

A Dictionary of the Science and Practice of Architecture, Building, Carpentry, etc., from the Earliest Ages to the Present Time, forming a comprehensive work of reference for the use of architects, draughtsmen, designers, builders, carpenters, masons, engineers, students, professional men and amateurs, by Peter Nicholson, the world-renowned Architect and Builder, whose reputation and experience make him an unquestioned authority on all questions relating to building and structures of all kinds, including railroads, bridges, lighthouses, cathedrals, churches, theaters, public and private buildings of every character.

It would be impossible in any circular to give the faintest idea of the real and practical value of this work, but when we make the statement that thousands of copies of this work have been sold for $32.00, and that we now offer you the same work for $10.00, you will have some idea of the great advantage we are now offering you. It is issued in two handsome quarto volumes, bound in half morocco, each volume containing 650 pages, or a total of 1,300 pages—among which are two hundred and fifteen full-page steel engravings, which have been reproduced especially for this work. The enormous expense attendant upon the publication of this work will be understood somewhat when we state that the original cost of the plates used was nearly $11.000! This grand, complete work in two volumes will be shipped anywhere by express, freight charges prepaid, on receipt of the special price, $10.00.

It will save much valuable time, avoid errors, and prove to be an indispensable assistant to every time-keeper and book-keeper. The author has held an important position under the Government for years, and saw the need of and necessity for such a work to any one employs labor. It has been very carefully prepared and verified, and as the value of such a work is to have it absolutely correct, we have no hesitation in saying that there are no errors or miscalculations in it. This work is printed on handsome paper and strongly bound in cloth. Such a book would be cheap at from $2.00 to $3.00, but we have decided to make the price only $1.00.

It is a powerful story founded upon the great Indian mutiny, with a very romantic love element in it and an interesting psychological feature. No. 18. INSCRUTABLE. By ESME STUART. 12mo, 298 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

No. 19. LADY VERNER'S FLIGHT. By "The Duchess." 12mo, 310 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

The girl next door will have this book within three days. It is a pure story of English life, in which there is the most delightfully villainous villain, who dies at just the right time, and there are no less than three love affairs going on at the same time.—New York Recorder.

No one of the popular fiction writers is more delightfully interesting than the "Duchess," and in "Lady Verner's Flight" she quite surpasses her own standard of entertaining literature. The story is told with the animation and humor characteristic of this writer, and will be enjoyed by grave statesmen and jurists and men of affairs who desire to give themselves mental relaxation.—The Boston Beacon.

It is in the author's best style. The plot is clever and the characters are well conceived and consistently developed.—Boston Republic.

It is the story of a London society woman married to a selfish and unfeeling brute. She endures his ill-treatment with exemplary patience until he seeks to drive her into evil courses in order to obtain grounds for divorce, and then she seeks safety in flight and concealment. It is a good story of the conventional English type.—Syracuse Herald.

No. 23. "OUT AT TWINNETT'S." By JOHN HABBERTON, author of "Helen's Babies." 12mo, 283 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

This is a well-told and thoroughly readable romance of New York life. Mr. Habberton's direct and unaffected style was never shown to better advantage than in this drama, which possesses an added interest by the fact that the scene is laid on the Sound, and some of its characters are graphic word-pictures of the quaint folk still to be found along that coast.

Kitty Herrick is a pretty young woman who is compelled, by a reverse of fortune, to earn her own living. Having been an enthusiastic votary of the hunting-field in better days, she boldly decides to utilize her knowledge of horses, and becomes known as "That Pretty Little Horsebreaker." In this, her latest story, Mrs. Kennard writes as well as she rides, after saying which it is unnecessary to add anything in its praise.

No. 40. THE ADVENTURES OF A BASHFUL BACHELOR. By CLARA AUGUSTA. 12mo, 288 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

THE LOWLY NAZARENE.

BY J. LEROY NIXON,

Author of "Hypnotized," Etc., Etc.

12mo. 320 Pages. Handsomely Bound in Cloth, $1.00.

This is a story of Christ, and there are brought into action, throughout the entire narrative, characters of the times when the lowly Nazarene dwelt upon the earth. The life and works of the "Child of Bethlehem," together with the secret plans and plottings of the temple priests to place Him upon the Jewish throne, are deftly interwoven into the story with a narrative interest never attained by another author treating this subject.

Unlike the story of "Ben Hur" the entertaining and thrilling chapters of "The Lowly Nazarene," are true to fact. The tragic death of Judas, the long trial of Christ before the Jewish tribunal, and other prominent incidents of the story are most carefully, accurately and strongly drawn, without for a moment allowing the interest to decline.

Whether a church member or an unbeliever, there are none who will not be pleased with the work, containing, as it does, the strongest word pictures obtainable from the life of Jesus of Nazareth.

The young and the old, with equal interest, will read it in its entirety, once they have taken it up, and it will set the more advanced of theologians to thinking, while in it they can find nothing to merit their condemnation.

Read what Prof. Rev. J. W. Roberts, Ph.D., Professor of Language, Literature and Oratory in Central University, Indianapolis, says of this wonderful work:

"Mr. Nixon has written much that has been read with great pleasure, but nothing has come from his facile pen that will attract such a wide-spread interest as his "Lowly Nazarene." His style is graphic and easy, and his story of the life of Christ possesses an absorbing interest from first to last. He treats of the most important incidents in this wonderful life in a way that cannot fail to attract the close attention of the general reader. The narrative never tires, and his description of the most prominent characters in the story is remarkably realistic and powerful. His treatment of the character of Judas is entirely original and his tragic death is portrayed in a manner that will live long in the memory of the reader."

WHAT TO EAT AND HOW TO COOK IT, with Rules for Preserving, Canning and Drying Fruits and Vegetables, by author of "The Science of a New Life," John Cowan, M.D. There are scores of Cook-Books in the market, but it is a question if the ingredients and the mixtures and combinations they offer as "recipes" do not, when used as food, result in physical suffering, rather than in health and vigor.

This book differs from that class of Cook-Books in that it aims to give, in a plain and understandable way, the kind of food that it is best to eat in order to regain and sustain health and strength, and a mode of cooking it that will make it at once palatable, nutritious and wholesome.

☞If you wish to avoid sickness and live healthfully, by eating food cooked and prepared in a simple and inviting manner, send for this book. Price, paper cover, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

WOMAN, HER POWER AND PRIVILEGES.—This is a series of Twelve Sermons by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, and should be read by all who are interested in the home and family. The following is the table of contents:

NICHOLSON'S ENCYCLOPEDIA OF ARCHITECTURE.

A Dictionary of the Science and Practice of Architecture, Building, Carpentry, etc., from the Earliest Ages to the Present Time, forming a comprehensive work of reference for the use of architects, draughtsmen, designers, builders, carpenters, masons, engineers, students, professional men and amateurs, by PETER NICHOLSON, the world-renowned Architect and Builder, whose reputation and experience make him an unquestioned authority on all questions relating to building and structures of all kinds, including railroads, bridges, lighthouses, cathedrals, churches, theaters, public and private buildings of every character.

It would be impossible in any circular to give the faintest idea of the real and practical value of this work, but when we make the statement that thousands of copies of this work have been sold for $32.00, and that we now offer you the same work for $10.00, you will have some idea of the great advantage we are now offering you. It is issued in two handsome quarto volumes, bound in half morocco, each volume containing 650 pages, or a total of 1,300 pages—among which are two hundred and fifteen full-page steel engravings, which have been reproduced especially for this work. The enormous expense attendant upon the publication of this work will be understood somewhat when we state that the original cost of the plates used was nearly $11.000! This grand, complete work in two volumes will be shipped anywhere by express, freight charges prepaid, on receipt of the special price, $10.00.

It will save much valuable time, avoid errors, and prove to be an indispensable assistant to every time-keeper and book-keeper. The author has held an important position under the Government for years, and saw the need of and necessity for such a work to any one employs labor. It has been very carefully prepared and verified, and as the value of such a work is to have it absolutely correct, we have no hesitation in saying that there are no errors or miscalculations in it. This work is printed on handsome paper and strongly bound in cloth. Such a book would be cheap at from $2.00 to $3.00, but we have decided to make the price only $1.00.

No. 9. A TYPICAL AMERICAN; An Anonymous American Story. 12mo, 256 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

In this story the hero illustrates in his own person the unique qualities and see-saw experiences of our ambitious public men. He is encircled by troops of friends, flatterers and foes, in society, in politics and in the press. The portraiture and the ever-varying play of these characters around the central figure make up a comedy-drama of daily life as sparkling and faithful as anything now current in fiction or on the stage.

No. 17. IN THE DAYS OF THE MUTINY. By G. A. HENTY. 12mo, 397 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

The book has a very clever and interesting plot. The scene is laid in India. The story is told in an easy, graceful, effective style. The characters are living beings, and the final ending is fitting.—The Boston Republic.

It is a voluminously interesting novel of the times that truly tried men's souls and those of women and children also, in the days of the mutiny of India. It is a rarely good novel.—Brooklyn Eagle.

It is a well told story of the great mutiny in India.—Syracuse Herald.

It is a powerful story founded upon the great Indian mutiny, with a very romantic love element in it and an interesting psychological feature. The description of the fighting at Deennugghur, where a mere handful of English, with a few women and children, were besieged in the court house by many thousands of Sepoys for three weeks, is given with thrilling and realistic power. The book is full of the reign of terror of the great Sepoy rebellion in India, and is exceedingly fascinating and will hold the reader from the first page to the last.—Toledo Blade.

No. 18. INSCRUTABLE. By ESME STUART. 12mo, 298 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

No. 19. LADY VERNER'S FLIGHT. By "The Duchess." 12mo, 310 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

The girl next door will have this book within three days. It is a pure story of English life, in which there is the most delightfully villainous villain, who dies at just the right time, and there are no less than three love affairs going on at the same time.—New York Recorder.

No one of the popular fiction writers is more delightfully interesting than the "Duchess," and in "Lady Verner's Flight" she quite surpasses her own standard of entertaining literature. The story is told with the animation and humor characteristic of this writer, and will be enjoyed by grave statesmen and jurists and men of affairs who desire to give themselves mental relaxation.—The Boston Beacon.

It is in the author's best style. The plot is clever and the characters are well conceived and consistently developed.—Boston Republic.

It is the story of a London society woman married to a selfish and unfeeling brute. She endures his ill-treatment with exemplary patience until he seeks to drive her into evil courses in order to obtain grounds for divorce, and then she seeks safety in flight and concealment. It is a good story of the conventional English type.—Syracuse Herald.

This is a well-told and thoroughly readable romance of New York life. Mr. Habberton's direct and unaffected style was never shown to better advantage than in this drama, which possesses an added interest by the fact that the scene is laid on the Sound, and some of its characters are graphic word-pictures of the quaint folk still to be found along that coast.

Having been an enthusiastic votary of the hunting-field in better days, she boldly decides to utilize her knowledge of horses, and becomes known as "That Pretty Little Horsebreaker." In this, her latest story, Mrs. Kennard writes as well as she rides, after saying which it is unnecessary to add anything in its praise.

No. 40. THE ADVENTURES OF A BASHFUL BACHELOR. By CLARA AUGUSTA. 12mo, 288 pages. Bound in cloth, with onyx side, 75 cents.

THE LOWLY NAZARENE.

BY J. LEROY NIXON,

Author of "Hypnotized," Etc., Etc.

12mo. 320 Pages. Handsomely Bound in Cloth, $1.00.

This is a story of Christ, and there are brought into action, throughout the entire narrative, characters of the times when the lowly Nazarene dwelt upon the earth. The life and works of the "Child of Bethlehem," together with the secret plans and plottings of the temple priests to place Him upon the Jewish throne, are deftly interwoven into the story with a narrative interest never attained by another author treating this subject.

Unlike the story of "Ben Hur" the entertaining and thrilling chapters of "The Lowly Nazarene," are true to fact. The tragic death of Judas, the long trial of Christ before the Jewish tribunal, and other prominent incidents of the story are most carefully, accurately and strongly drawn, without for a moment allowing the interest to decline.

Whether a church member or an unbeliever, there are none who will not be pleased with the work, containing, as it does, the strongest word pictures obtainable from the life of Jesus of Nazareth.

The young and the old, with equal interest, will read it in its entirety, once they have taken it up, and it will set the more advanced of theologians to thinking, while in it they can find nothing to merit their condemnation.

Read what Prof. Rev. J. W. Roberts, Ph.D., Professor of Language, Literature and Oratory in Central University, Indianapolis, says of this wonderful work:

"Mr. Nixon has written much that has been read with great pleasure, but nothing has come from his facile pen that will attract such a wide-spread interest as his "Lowly Nazarene." His style is graphic and easy, and his story of the life of Christ possesses an absorbing interest from first to last. He treats of the most important incidents in this wonderful life in a way that cannot fail to attract the close attention of the general reader. The narrative never tires, and his description of the most prominent characters in the story is remarkably realistic and powerful. His treatment of the character of Judas is entirely original and his tragic death is portrayed in a manner that will live long in the memory of the reader."

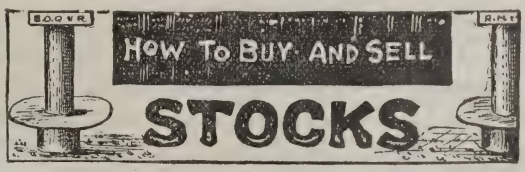
But why go further? Get the book and we will guarantee you will say it is away ahead of anything you have seen before.

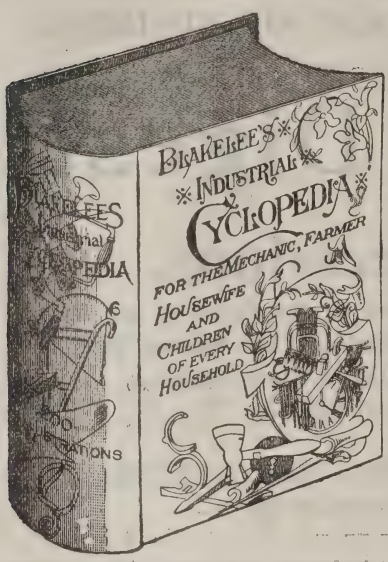
There is no use applying for a situation if you cannot do anything. Encourage and develop some one talent for the use of which the world offers a money value. The man who can do anything fairly well isn't drawing half the salary of the man who can do one thing better than other people. Do not be afraid of pounding persistently at one thing, even if people do call you a crank. If nothing turns up, turn something up. Don't quit a good position until you are sure of a better one. Remember that the very best positions are secured through promotion and not by answering advertisements. It may be worth your while to study carefully the pages devoted to this subject in The Every-Day Educator. You will find a model application (an answer to an advertisement) on page 116 of this book.



1. Are you a good salesman?
2. Why do some men succeed in almost any kind of drumming, while others fail?

Almost all business men are salesmen in some form or other. There is an old maxim: "When you buy keep one eye on the goods and the other on the seller; when you sell keep both eyes on the buyer." If you would learn the secret read this department of The Every-Day Educator.

No book ever printed gives as much valuable information in so small a space as The Every-Day Educator. Don't fail to get it if you want to be up to date in business or any thing else.



THE EVERY-DAY EDUCATOR contains 256 pages and is handsomely printed, and contains over one hundred illustrations.

Price, in paper cover, 25 cents. Bound in cloth, 75 cents.

BLAKELEE'S INDUSTRIAL CYCLOPEDIA,

A READY REFERENCE AND RESERVOIR OF USEFUL INFORMATION.

In this book, by George E. Blakelee, practical mechanic, and editor of a farmers' paper, seven hundred and twenty octavo pages are devoted to explaining clearly the easiest, most practical, and best way of doing every kind of work, mechanical and otherwise that can be of use in or about a city or village home, or on a large or small farm. It not only treats fully of the use and care of tools, and shows how to make and mend an endless variety of useful articles, but also points out how to do thousands of things not requiring tools, such as mixing paints, managing teams, caring for farm stock and poultry, storing hay, grain and vegetables, harvesting a corn crop, caring for furs, leather, lamps and glass articles, butter and cheese making, pork packing, canning, preserving, and the like, without end.

Not only are the mechanic and house-holder thoroughly provided for, but matters of use and interest to the farmer are treated at such length, that there seems to be nothing in the wide range of his multifarious duties that the author has overlooked. The housewife, too, has a department of her own, where, among hundreds of other things, she is taught the mysteries of bleaching and dyeing, the management of all kinds of fabrics; how to make brackets, frames, tidies, rugs, mats and all kinds of knitted and fancy articles; how to beautify her furniture, polish and renew table-ware, make soap, etc., etc. The boys and girls are also fully cared for. The former are shown how they can make their own hand-sleds, cages, traps and snares for birds and animals, row-boats, apparatus for a home gymnasium and the like; while the latter are instructed in making hundreds of those beautiful and useful articles which add so much to the adornment and convenience of home.

The book is a substantial octavo volume of seven hundred and twenty pages, well printed on paper of fine quality, fully illustrated with over two hundred engravings, furnished with a detailed table of contents and copious index, and handsomely bound.

GASKELL'S COMPENDIUM

Of Self-Teaching Penmanship.

Former Style. Present Style.

Post-office address: Traer, Iowa.

The best specimens of improvement come from MR. HARRIE M REEVES, in the office of the Canada Southern Railway Lines, at Detroit, Mich., his elegant penmanship securing him the position. We give his portrait and autographs (both old and new) below:

[HON. HENRY WATTERSON in Answers to Correspondents in the Louisville Courier-Journal.]

"We have received a number of inquiries concerning this system of self-teaching penmanship, and reply here that it is valuable. Anyone who will follow the methods laid down in it, and give due application thereto, will consider that a most excellent investment of a dollar has been made. The Compendium places good handwriting within the reach of everyone, and its success has been demonstrated by the sale in this country and England of over Three Hundred thousand copies."

[N. Y. Daily Witness.]

"The salient advantages of Gaskell's system are its legibility, rapidity and beauty. * * * There is no style of writing, plain or ornamental, business or epistolary, for lady or gentleman, which is not included in this admirable system. And we think that if anything at all could fire an indifferent writer with a desire to become an expert and elegant penman, an inspection of Mr. Gaskell's system would do so."

[HON. JAMES A. WESTON, Ex-Governor of New Hampshire, in a note to the Publisher.]

"You will permit me to say that it far surpasses anything of the kind that has ever come to my notice, and I take pleasure in recommending it to the attention of all who desire to learn to write rapidly and well. With this as a guide, and tact and application on the part of the learner, a beautiful handwriting may be acquired at a trifling expense."

[Pall Mall Gazette, London, Eng.

"Good penmanship is very desirable in whatever station in life you are placed, and we are pleased to note that the system of American penmanship introduced by Prof. G. A. Gaskell, of Manchester, New Hampshire, U. S., is very popular in London, and is used in many of the leading commercial houses. It is called 'Gaskell's Compendium,' and is simpler and more easily learned, and may be written with greater ease and rapidity than any of the old styles."

The Most Valuable Biblical Compilation yet published for Teacher, Minister, Student, or General Reader.

The Churchman.

New York, April 10, '97.

"The 'Oxford' Bible has been constantly improving with every edition, until it has now reached a state of perfection beyond which it would seem almost impossible to go. The archæological plates of the present edition are very fine, and furnish the student with the very latest records of the monuments. In fact, all the illustrations are from the very best plates, and may be thoroughly trusted. This is a great satisfaction, this feeling of confidence in one's authority, . . . a guarantee of the best."

Sunday School Times

Philadelphia, Pa., November 4, 1896.

"The selections are well made, and the names of Sir Edward Maunde Thompson, E. A. Wallis Budge, and A. S. Murray are a sufficient guarantee that the work is well done. The explanations given are clear and judiciously brief. Too high an estimate cannot be placed on the value of such materials as these for Bible study."

THE ILLUSTRATIONS.

The illustrations form a distinctive feature of the new edition, and present a novel and valuable departure, never before attempted in works of this description on a scale so full and complete. They have been selected and described by E. Maunde Thompson, D.C.L., LL.D., Principal Librarian of the British Museum; A. S. Murray, LL.D., F.S.A., Keeper of Greek and Roman Antiquities, British Museum; and E. A. Wallis Budge, Litt.D., F.S.A., Acting Assistant Keeper of Egyptian and Assyrian Antiquities, British Museum. Special care has been taken to insert only authentic copies of objects which bear upon matters recorded in Holy Scripture.

THE FORMER SERIES CONSISTED OF 68 PLATES.

THE PRESENT SERIES HAS 124, WITH FULL DESCRIPTIVE LETTERPRESS.

This large increase is partly accounted for by several interesting additions to the illustrations of Old Testament History and Religion, drawn from Egyptian and Assyrian and Babylonian sources, but chiefly by a very large number of fac-similes which have been introduced into the series, in order to amplify the specimens of different versions of the Scriptures, and more particularly to place before the student a full collection of plates showing the growth of the English Bible.

BY THE

American Pulpit and Press

OF THE

New Copyright Editions of the Genuine "Oxford" Teachers' Bible

---

REV. THEO. L. CUYLER, D.D. BROOKLYN, October 8, 1896.

"It is about the 'high-water mark' of all the editions of God's Word that I have ever seen; and in its completeness leaves nothing more to be desired."

REV. A. F. SCHAUFFLER, D.D. NEW YORK, October 6, 1896.

"It is the best Teachers' Bible I have ever seen. A most beautiful specimen of work, not only typographically considered, but because of the special care with which the Teachers' 'Helps' have been prepared."

REV. RICHARD S. STORRS, D.D. BROOKLYN, October 14, 1896.

"Leaves nothing to be desired in the way of mechanical execution, or of carefully selected 'Helps' to Biblical study. Such a copy cannot but be of great and constant value to any Pastor or Teacher into whose hands it may come."

REV. RUSSELL H. CONWELL, D.D. PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 15, 1896.

"The best edition of the Scriptures now published."

REV. ALVAH HOVEY, D.D. PRESIDENT NEWTON CENTRE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, November 5, 1896.

"I have examined with special satisfaction the New Copyright Edition of the Genuine 'Oxford' Teachers' Bible. It is a wonderfully interesting and useful edition, superior to anything of its kind that I have seen. The type is distinct and pleasant to the eye, while the plates are most instructive, giving to this edition a unique character and great value. Every Teacher surely would be more than satisfied with this Book. It is a gem."

SUNDAY-SCHOOL MAGAZINE. NASHVILLE, TENN., February, 1897.

"In no volume on earth is there such a display, in similar compass, of all that is magnificent in the publisher's art and all that is valuable in scholarship. The binding is the perfection of beauty and durability. No teacher should be without this Bible whatever others he may have."

CHRISTIAN WORK. NEW YORK, December 31, 1896.

"The Genuine 'Oxford' Teachers' Bible is the best and most popular Teachers' Bible published. No one can make a mistake in buying one. They have all the 'Helps' and all the latest improvements in type and bindings."

CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER. NEW YORK, December 16, 1896.

"Never has been and is not now equalled anywhere. These Bibles are durable, all the editions, for they are well made."

THE INTERIOR. CHICAGO, ILL., December 24, 1896.

"'Helps' prepared for this work by the most eminent Biblical scholars of the day, and revised up to the latest possible date, to keep in touch with the last discoveries of science, the last lights of interpretation. This edition has reached, in former issues, a sale of over two million copies, and it is safe to say that nothing offers even fair competition with it in general favor."

THE CONGREGATIONALIST. BOSTON, MASS., October 1, 1896.

"Everything which vigilant and unceasing care could do in editing, in selecting and manufacturing, in print, type, paper and binding, has been lavished on the effort to make this a perfect edition of the great Book of the world."

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. NEW YORK, November 26, 1896.

"A delight to the sense of sight and of touch even before the covers are opened. This edition is an attempt to carry toward further perfection a Bible so thoroughly appreciated that over two million copies of former editions have been sold. It is impossible to summarize the contents, but we are strongly impressed by the variety, value and system of these aids. Critics unite in indorsing the painstaking work done."

THE BIBLE READER. RICHMOND, VA., November, 1896.

"The 'Oxford' Bible is an unceasing wonder. About the time one has concluded that it has reached perfection, here comes another edition which eclipses all former efforts. These plates are by far the finest we have seen. They are authentic and their value is permanent."

THE CHURCHMAN. NEW YORK, April 10, 1897.

"The 'Oxford' Bible has been constantly improving with every edition, until it has now reached a state of perfection beyond which it would seem almost impossible to go. The archæological plates of the present edition are very fine, and furnish the student with the very latest records of the monuments. In fact, all the illustrations are from the very best plates, and may be thoroughly trusted. This is a great satisfaction, this feeling of confidence in one's authority, and fully repays the extra cost which is always to be expected with a guarantee of the best."

THE LIVING CHURCH. CHICAGO, ILL., November 21, 1896.

"Without doubt, the best edition of the Bible yet published for Students, Teachers, and Clergymen. The reference columns are exceedingly valuable, containing some of the best results of the Revised Version. The famous 'Oxford' India paper is used, giving the greatest degree of clearness and durability in the smallest possible space. The printing is very clear and readable, even in the smaller type."

PRACTICAL! SCHOLARLY! SIMPLE!

NOTE ON THE MARKINGS.

The system of signs used in this book to indicate the pronunciation does not profess to be strictly scientific or logical, but it aims at being as simple and practical as it can be made, and is based, so far as is possible, upon the use of signs which have been, many of them, familiar in America from the days of Webster's Dictionary. The vowel, or vowels, of every separate syllable are all marked as they are to be pronounced; and where a consonant, or consonants, are capable of more than one pronunciation, the right mode of pronouncing the consonant is also indicated. It is claimed for this book that it goes further in these directions than any previous book, and that it also indicates the pronunciation of certain other words, such as "leviathan," "homer," "cherub," etc., which cannot be called proper names, but which might present difficulties to an unskilled reader.

The undersigned has endeavored in one respect to simplify matters by assigning no separate notation to what are called intermediate sounds. He considers that it is quite possible, by the use of the long (¯) and short (˘) marks, to indicate with sufficient accuracy how the proper names containing these sounds are to be pronounced.

35 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will break [a] the bow of Ē'-lăm, the chief of their might.

36 And upon Ē'-lăm will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and [c] will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Ē'-lăm shall not come.

37 For I will cause Ē'-lăm to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; [g] and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:

38 And I will [k] set my throne in Ē'-lăm, and will destroy from thence the king and the princes, saith the LORD.

39 ¶ But it shall come to pass [l] in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Ē'-lăm, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 50.

1, 2, 21, 35 The judgment of Babylon. 4, 17, 33 The redemption of Israel.

THE word that the LORD spake [o] against Băb'-ȳ-lon and against the land of the Chăl-dē'-ăns [b] by Jĕr-ē-mī'-ăh the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and [6] set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Băb'-ȳ-lon is taken, [r] Bēl is confounded, Mĕr'-ō-dăch is broken in pieces; [s] her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 [x] For out of the north there cometh up [z] a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.

4 ¶ In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl shall come, [b] they and the children of Jû'-dăh together, [c] going and weeping: they shall go, [d] and seek the LORD their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zī'-on with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us join ourselves to the LORD in [i] a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been [k] lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on [l] the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their [8] restingplace.

7 All that found them have [n] devoured them: and [o] their adversaries said, [p] We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, [q] the habitation of justice, even the LORD, [s] the hope of their fathers.

8 [t] Remove out of the midst of Băb'-ȳ-lon, and go forth out of the land of the Chăl-dē'-ăns, and be as the he goats before the flocks.

9 ¶ [b] For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Băb'-ȳ-lon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall [d] set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty [2] expert man; [e] none shall return in vain.

10 And Chăl-dē'-ă shall be a spoil: [f] all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.

11 [h] Because ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown [3] fat [4] as the heifer at grass, and [4] bellow as bulls;

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded; she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

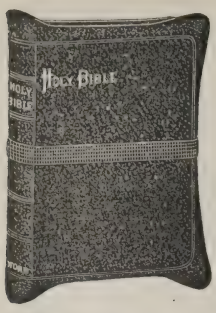
13 Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, [m] but it shall be wholly desolate: [n] every one that goeth by Băb'-ȳ-lon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 [p] Put yourselves in array against Băb'-ȳ-lon round about: all ye [q] that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath [t] given her hand: her foundations are fallen, [u] her walls are thrown down: for [y] it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her.

16 Cut off the sower from Băb'-ȳ-lon, and him that handleth the [7] sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword [a] they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

17 ¶ Ĭs'-rā-ĕl is [e] a scattered sheep; [f] the lions have driven him away: first [g] the king of Ăs-sȳr'-ĭ-ă hath devoured him; and last this [h] Nĕb-ū-chăd-rĕz'-zär king of Băb'-ȳ-lon hath broken his bones.



18 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl; Behold, I will punish the king of Băb'-ȳ-lon and his land, as I have punished the king of Ăs-sȳr'-ĭ-ă.

19 [m] And I will bring Ĭs'-rā-ĕl again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Căr'-mĕl and Bā'-shăn, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ē'-phrā-ĭm and Gĭl'-ē-ăd.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, [r] the iniquity of Ĭs'-rā-ĕl shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Jû'-dăh, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them [u] whom I reserve.

3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots spendeth his substance.
4 The king by judgment establisheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts overthroweth it.
5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his feet.
6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice.
7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.
8 Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.

Of God's power. JOB, 39, 40. Job humbleth himself.

31 Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?
32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his season? or canst thou guide Arcturus with his sons?
33 Knowest thou the ordinances of heaven? canst thou set the dominion thereof in the earth?
34 Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?
35 Canst thou send lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are?
36 Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart?
37 Who can number the clouds in wisdom? or who can stay the bottles of heaven,

15 And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them.
16 She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not her's: her labour is in vain without fear;
17 Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he imparted to her understanding.
18 What time she lifteth up herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider.
19 Hast thou given the horse strength? hast thou clothed his neck with thunder?
20 Canst thou make him afraid as a grasshopper? the glory of his nostrils is terrible.
21 He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth on to meet the armed men.

and they said unto them, Why he was not taken. 46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man. 47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived? 48 Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him? 49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed. 50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,) 51 Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet. 53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER 8.

JESUS went unto the mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. 3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst, 4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou? 6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not. 7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. 9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. 10 When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, 223

THE ACTS, 10.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up 41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive. 42 And it was known throughout all Joppa; and many believed in the Lord. 43 And it came to pass, that 7 And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; 8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa. 9 ¶ On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house-top to pray about the sixth hour:

Christ foretelleth ST. MATTHEW, 18. his passion.

devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

22 And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER 18.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmless: 7 to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones: 15 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us: 21 and how oft to forgive them: 23 which he setteth forth

O ALMIGHTY God, the supreme Governor of all things, whose power no creature is able to resist, to whom it belongeth justly to punish sinners, and to be merciful to those who truly repent; Save and deliver us, we humbly beseech thee, from the hands of our enemies; that we, being armed with thy defence, may be preserved evermore from all perils, to glorify thee, who art the only giver of all victory; through the merits of thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

on earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ Then likewise he shall say,

O Lord, open thou our lips.

Answer. And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

¶ Here, all standing up, the Minister shall say,

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

THE CHURCH—MISSIONS. 221

4 Soon shall end the time of weeping,
Soon the reaping time will come;
Heaven and earth together keeping
God's eternal Harvest Home.
Saints and angels
Shout the world's great Harvest Home.

251 L. M.

LOOK from Thy sphere of endless day,
O God of mercy and of might!
In pity look on those who stray,
Benighted in this land of light.

2 In peopled vale, in lonely glen,
In crowded mart, by stream or sea,
How many of the sons of men
Hear not the message sent from Thee!

3 Send forth Thy heralds, Lord, to call
The thoughtless young, the hardened old,
A scattered, homeless flock, till all
Be gathered to Thy peaceful fold.

4 Send them Thy mighty word to speak,
Till faith shall dawn and doubt depart,
To awe the bold, to stay the weak,
And bind and heal the broken heart.

5 Then all these wastes, a dreary scene
That makes us sadden as we gaze,
Shall grow with living waters green,
And lift to heaven the voice of praise.

252 7.6.

THE morning light is breaking;
The darkness disappears;
The sons of earth are waking
To penitential tears;

How sweet their tidings are!

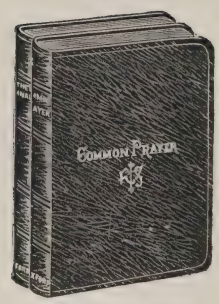
Special attention invited to the superbly printed "Oxford India Paper" Editions of Prayer-Books and Hymnals.

The "Oxford India Paper" is a specialty of the Oxford Press, and is manufactured at the paper-mills of the Oxford University Press.

A distinguishing characteristic of the "Oxford India Paper" as compared with all so-called India Paper is that the impression on one side does not show through when the other side is being read.

A strip of this paper, only three inches in breadth, has been tested and found able to support a quarter of a hundredweight without yielding; a decisive proof of its exceeding toughness and durability.



The wonderful lightness of these books, the exceedingly clear type, the strength and excellence of binding, combine to place them far in advance of any book hitherto issued.

Gave him defiance. But which of you was by,—
[To WARWICK.] You, cousin Nevil, as I may remember,—
When Richard, with his eye brimful of tears,
Then check'd and rated by Northumberland,
Did speak these words, now prov'd a prophecy?
'Northumberland, thou ladder, by the which
My cousin Bolingbroke ascends my throne;'
Though then, God knows, I had no such intent,
But that necessity so bowed the state
That I and greatness were compelled to kiss:
'The time shall come,' thus did he follow it,
'The time will come, that foul sin, gathering
head,
Shall break into corruption:'—so went on,
Foretelling this same time's condition
And the division of our amity.
War. There is a history in all men's lives,
Figuring the nature of the times deceas'd;
The which observ'd, a man may prophesy,
With a near aim, of the main chance of things
As yet not come to life, which in their seeds
And weak beginnings lie intreasured.
Such things become the hatch and brood of time;
And by the necessary form of this
King Richard might create a perfect guess
That great Northumberland, then false to him,
Would of that seed grow to a greater falseness,
Which should not find a ground to root upon,
Unless on you.
K. Hen. Are these things then necessities?
Then let us meet them like necessities;
And that same word even now cries out on us.
They say the bishop and Northumberland

Sole sound, the Sourd[1] prolongs his mournful cry;
—Yet hast thou found that Freedom spreads her power
Beyond the cottage hearth, the cottage-door:
All nature smiles, and owns beneath her eyes
Her fields peculiar, and peculiar skies.
Yes, as I roamed where Loiret's waters glide
Through rustling aspens heard from side to side,
When from October clouds a milder light
Fell where the blue flood rippled into white;
Methought from every cot the watchful bird
Crowed with ear-piercing power till then

1.] The Chase. 9

And deem'd the stag must turn to bay,
Where that huge rampart barr'd the way;
Already glorying in the prize,
Measured his antlers with his eyes;
For the death-wound and death-halloo,
Muster'd his breath, his whinyard drew;—
But thundering as he came prepared,
With ready arm and weapon bared,
The wily quarry shunn'd the shock,
And turn'd him from the opposing rock;
Then, dashing down a darksome glen,
Soon lost to hound and hunter's ken,
In the deep Trosachs' wildest nook
His solitary refuge took.
There, while close couch'd, the thicket

ness and negligence of our own condition! that we so quickly decline from the ancient fervour, and are come to be weary of life through sloth and lukewarmness. Would to God the desire to grow in virtues did not wholly sleep in thee, who hast often seen the many examples of the devout!

OF THE EXERCISES OF A GOOD RELIGIOUS PERSON.

THE life of a good religious person ought to be mighty in all virtues[1]; that he may inwardly be such, as outwardly he seemeth to men. And with reason there ought to be much more within, than is perceived without. For God beholdeth us[2]; whom

1897

The Works of Catherine Charlotte, Lady Jackson.

Library Edition, Complete in Fourteen Volumes.

Old Paris. ITS COURTS AND LITERARY SALONS. 2 vols.

The Old Régime. COURT, SALONS AND THEATRES. 2 vols.

The Court of the Tuileries, FROM THE RESTORATION TO THE FLIGHT OF LOUIS PHILIPPE. 2 vols.

Of this gossipy and entertaining series of French Memoirs, published in London during the past twenty-five years, and printed from type only, all the earlier volumes are now "out of print" and "scarce."

Complete sets can only be picked up at a high price, from dealers in rare books.

In view of this fact, and of the present widespread interest in French history, no more opportune time could have been chosen for issuing a new edition. The typographical errors of the original edition have been corrected, and a much-needed Index, which the English edition lacked, has been prepared for each work.

The titles of this celebrated series indicate the scope of Lady Jackson's writings, which touch on different periods of French history from the time of Catherine de Medici to that of Louis Philippe, and deal with the manners and customs of the times, with chatty personal gossip taken from the memoirs of the brilliant men and women who flourished in this famous court. The writer has done her work most carefully, and is at all times historically accurate.

A new font of type has been used in setting the volumes, and the utmost care has been given to the press-work.

The size of page and size of volume (crown octavo) have been decided upon after careful comparison with the best models, and it has been the aim of the publishers to make, as nearly as possible, an ideal set of books. An English paper, smooth, without gloss, soft and flexible, and pure in color, made at Dickinson's Croxley Mills, has been selected.

Each volume is illustrated with eight photogravures or etchings, careful reproductions of celebrated engraved portraits, printed with the plate mark, and bound with gilt tops and uncut edges, in new English silk-ribbed cloth, with a striking original die stamped in gold on side and back.

Sold separately or in complete sets.
